Nikita Hurls Missile Threat

LONDON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev declared today Soviet rocket bases will be set up in Albania and Bulgaria unless the Balkans are turned into a "rocket-free, non-atomic zone under mutual control."

The Soviet premier, addressing a big Moscow rally after flying home from a visit to Albania and Hungary, said the bases would cover any rocket sites that Italy and Greece allow on their territory.

It was Khrushchev's first mention of Bulgaria as a possible base for Soviet missiles although he has previously threatened to establish them in Albania. Khrushchev said any attack on Albania would be an attack on the Soviet Union itself.

"Therefore," he declared in remarks relayed by Moscow radio, "if anybody tried to attack Albania or another socialist country a destructive blow would be dealt to the aggressor by all means at the disposal of the countries of the Warsaw Pact."

"Of course we can shoot at enemy rocket sites from the Soviet Union," the Soviet Premier told a giant rally at Lenin Stadium. "But why shoot from far away if they can be set up on Albanian soil?"

These were, however, almost the only menacing words used by Khrushchev in the Moscow radio version of his 45-minute address.

The generally mild tone of his speech surprised Westerners.

ROAD PROJECT PORTENDS FUTURE PATTERN

The view from atop the overpass of the San Quentin wye on Highway 17 leaves drivers somewhat confused about what goes where, as seen in top photo. Roads on both sides of freeway construction run both ways. But map shows how traffic will be routed when the present construction is completed. The state Division of Highways cautioned that the present short off ramp from Highway 101 northbound (opposite end from that shown in top picture) leaves little time for decision, and motorists should slow while still on the freeway to make the sharp turn.

PT. REYES SURVEY FUNDS APPROVED

Senate Unit Votes $15,000 For Study Of Peninsula As U. S. Recreation Area

The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday voted $15,000 for an economic and land-use study of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula as a possible site for development of a federal recreation area.

Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) expressed himself as "extremely gratified." He said the study "will provide a basis for evaluation of the National Park Service proposal for a national seashore recreation area in West Marin."

All 12 Northern California congressmen joined Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel and Clair M. Engle in requesting the funds, Miller said.

U. S. Subpoenas 40 In Bay Red Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Forty witnesses were summoned today to testify in a House committee on Un-American Activities hearing on Communist operations among California school teachers.

A key witness in the hearings, starting June 17, is expected to be an undercover Federal Bureau of Investigation agent who has been posing as a Communist.

Another major witness subpoenaed was Clinton Jencks, 40, former mine union leader. The U.S. Supreme Court, in a 1957 decision setting aside his conviction of falsely swearing he was not a Communist, directed that FBI information against him be opened to inspection by defense attorneys.

Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said the purpose of the three-day San Francisco hearing was to "look into the extent, character, and the objectives of the Communist Party in putting members into the teaching profession."

Another 70 teachers are being summoned to hearings in Los Angeles starting June 22.

Ernest Besig, Northern California director of the American Civil Liberties Union, declared the investigation and hearings were "sadistic harassment."

Besig will confer with attorneys of some of the subpoenaed teachers to determine a course of action. Besig declared the hearings could not conceivably help legislative purposes because the "teachers can only be asked about associations or activities that are many years in the past."

Ruined Craft Figures In Waterfront Row

A booming flash fire which gutted a Sausalito houseboat about 11 o'clock last night may have been deliberately set, Sausalito Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry said today.

The houseboat, at 807 Humboldt Street adjacent to the Northwestern Pacific railroad tracks, had been presented to the Sausalito Preservation Assn. several weeks ago by Earl E. Usner of Fairfax.

The association is composed of ark and barge dwellers and their friends who are resisting efforts by city and county officials to oust them on charges of violating sanitation laws.

The barge was unoccupied and unfurnished at the time of last night's blaze. There was no monetary estimate of damage.

Last weekend, a mild squabble at the scene developed as association members appeared with a truck and heavy equipment to move the barge to a new location, only to have Sam Zakessian, recent purchaser of the land, appear on the scene to prevent the move.

He belittled the association's claim to title on the craft and plans to move it were postponed.

Association officials had planned to move the barge to another location where they proposed to raffle it off to

Arson Probe Continues In Ignacio Fire

Special investigators are being called in as investigation of possible arson in a fire in the Meadows bar and restaurant in Ignacio continued today.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges said investigators for the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific are being called in, and investigator Charles Daniels of San Rafael has already joined the probe.

Novato firemen nipped the blaze in the bud early yesterday after flames fused wires on the establishment's burglar alarm, alerting a passerby who called the fire department.

"There were several things that didn't look normal," said Bridges, "and we are definitely making progress in the investigation—although no definite evidence of arson has been found." Cause is still unknown.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero, who led the attack on the flames that were first sighted at about 2:30 a.m., said a mattress in an unoccupied upstairs room was found to be on fire, despite its being completely separate from the main fire in the ground floor office and storeroom.

Chief Cavallero said about $2,000 damage was done to the building, not including the office equipment and several cases of liquor that were damaged or destroyed.

Ike Sends Message To Canada Via Moon

PRINCE ALBERT, Canada (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker today received a message from President Eisenhower bounced off the moon and prepared one that may follow a similar course back to the President.

The two leaders exchanged greetings on the opening of a new government radar laboratory here, to work with the U.S. Millstone Laboratory near Boston. Diefenbaker announced at the opening ceremonies that Canada will launch an earth satellite in 1961 with U.S. cooperation.

The President's message—emphasizing cooperation between Canada and the United States—was recorded by the laboratory here a few days ago.

PRISON AIDE'S SPOUSE HAS SENSE OF DUTY

A woman called San Quentin authorities yesterday afternoon with the report that she thought she saw a man go over the fence of the prison grounds, outward bound.

Officials took action by making the inmate count scheduled for 4:20 a half hour earlier. All were present

Making the report was Mrs. Walter D. Achuff, wife of the prison associate warden.

Deputy Sheriff Takes Pity On Broken-Hearted Airman

A deputy sheriff, like most mortal men, will sympathize with a fellow sufferer whose romance has been busted by a heartless female.

The true state of affairs was not immediately apparent yesterday afternoon when Deputy Harvey E. Teague booked A/2c Eusebio Duran, 24, of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron on Mt. Tamalpais at the county jail on a charge of drunkenness. Eusebio had been wandering around Stinson Beach, had been pulled from the surf and had gotten into a fight with his buddies, Deputy Teague reported.

Later, at the county jail, when Duran sobered up a little, the deputy learned the airman had just received a letter from his girl friend who said she was getting married "and this set him off."

"In the interests of justice," Duran was released by Deputy Teague to Air Police from the Mt. Tam squadron.

Odd Variety Of Things Found In Car

A car cruising around Novato's business district without its lights on was stopped early today by Deputy Sheriff Ernest Nielsen.

Inside he found Donald Gene Ward, 18, of 709 Cherry street, Novato, and a 17-year-old boy.

The deputy looked a little further and found:

Two heavy wire baskets from the Creamy Corner at 1401 Grant avenue, one yellow no-parking sign from a taxi zone in front of 924 Grant avenue, one three-foot-tall light green waste paper can and 11 cans of beer.

Inside the car's trunk was one small yellow barricade with blinker light owned by the County of Marin.

Deputy Nielsen said the youths admitted taking everything except the beer.

They were booked at the county jail at 4:15 a.m. on charges of petty theft and possession of alcoholic beverages.

The 17-year-old was transferred to the juvenile hall in Lucas Valley.

Big Four Ministers Deadlock Once More

GENEVA (AP)—Andrei Gromyko and the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France debated the future of Berlin for two hours today. Informants said they "got absolutely nowhere."

In a secret session at the residence of Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, Gromyko stood pat on the Soviet's demand that the Western powers give up their occupation rights in West Berlin.

Lloyd, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Maurice Couve de Murville of France were understood to have told him they would never give in or compromise on this issue.

Another secret meeting was set for Monday afternoon.

East-West negotiations over the future of Berlin appeared stalled at the end of four weeks of sparring--both out in the open and in private sessions.

Western diplomats believe Gromyko probably will make his rock bottom offer for a Berlin agreement and a summit meeting in the last 48 hours of the conference.

They think Gromyko is awaiting new instructions direct from Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Gromyko said he did not plan to leave Geneva this weekend but speculation continued in the Western camp that he might fly to Moscow to consult with Khrushchev personally.

New West Berlin Blockade Hinted

BERLIN (AP)—An East German Communist official today warned that West Berlin may be blockaded temporarily if the West German presidential election is held in the city.

The veiled threat came from Gerhart Eisler, who formerly lived in the United States and is now a top East German propaganda official, writing in the Communist Berliner Zeitung.

LORETTA TARTAGLIA, who will become the bride of John Ghiringhelli at a nuptial mass at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax on July 25.

Miss Fugina To Be Bride On July 4

Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Fugina of Sausalito have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn, to John Milton Abbott of Auburn, Wash.

Carolyn was graduated from Marin Catholic High School four years ago and since August of 1958 has been a member of the U. S. Women's Marine Corps, stationed at Camp Pendleton.

John is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Abbott of Auburn and is a sergeant in the Marine Corps.

Carolyn has four sisters: Joan, who attends College of Marin, Katherine and Margaret who attend Marin Catholic High School and Anne who graduates from elementary school this month.

The bride-elect spent this past weekend with her family making plans for her wedding on July 4. It will take place at the Ranch House Chapel, Camp Pendleton. Soon the couple will complete military service.

NUPTIAL RITES IN FAIRFAX

At high noon on Saturday, July 25, at a nuptial mass at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax, Loretta Tartaglia will exchange vows with John Ghiringhelli. The reception following the ceremony will take place at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax owned by John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ghiringhelli.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Tartaglia, sister of Ordell and Phil Tartaglia and granddaughter of Mrs. Nancy Collins, all of Fairfax. Loretta is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and secretary at the E. A. Forde Co.

John, an employee of Marin Municipal Water District, is also a Marin Catholic High School graduate. He is the brother of Mrs. Peter Forni and Robert and Harry Ghiringhelli, all of Fairfax.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

'Black And Blue' Ball Gay Farewell

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

More than a hundred friends of Mrs. Edouard Bossange (Evy Arnold) were present at the Lagunitas Club last night to bid her farewell at a formal dinner dance. The black tie affair had been arranged by a male contingent composed of William Muller, Adrian Malone, Scott Cauchois, Richard Gatterdam, Prescott Pervere, Sanford Lowengart and Clark Gable. The actor, who had been entertained by the Bossanges several years ago at their place on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe, had insisted that he be one of the sponsors although he and his wife are now in Europe.

Evy's husband was named sponsor emeritus as he was in the East when the party plans were made. He arrived here last Sunday for a visit with his family. He has been transferred to an executive position in New York by Pan American Airways and has bought a home for Evy and the children on Long Island. However she and her daughter, Lyn, 17, and son, Kent, 8, are not going east until September. They are spending July and August at Tahoe.

Several generations were represented at last night's party which was called the "Black and Blue Ball," friends not only of Evy and her husband and their daughter but acquaintances of her parents, the late G. Stanleigh Arnolds, and of her grandparents, the late Congressman and Mrs. William Kent.

TO CELEBRATE the promotion of Capt. Maxwell O. Johnson of Hamilton Air Force Base to the rank of major, he and his wife are entertaining at a champagne cocktail party tonight in the main lounge of the Officers Club. About 50 guests have been invited. Among the relatives present will be the officer's sister, Mrs. Gerald O'Gara, and her husband, a well known San Francisco attorney and former state senator, and his uncle, Commander William B. Hetfield, USN (rtd.) of San Francisco.

IN THEIR NEW home on Paradise drive in Paradise Cove, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith are celebrating his birthday at a family dinner party on Tuesday night. The Smiths recently moved from San Francisco to their just completed home. At the dinner will be Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Fred Meyer, and her husband and his two brothers, George and John Smith.

ABOUT 150 friends have been invited to the cocktail party Dr. and Mrs. Rolla B. Hess are hosting at their home in Kent Woodlands tomorrow afternoon. If the weather is warm the large patio will be the center of festivities which will begin at 4 o'clock.

A 'ROOM WARMING' will be hosted this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. McPherson at their home in San Rafael. They've invited about 30 couples to see the new addition to the house, a lanai-type of structure, and christen it with a party.

HONOR GUESTS at a progressive dinner given last night by the Kent O. Seymours and Fred Drexlers were the William A. Hamiltons of Mill Valley. Many neighbors and friends were present to wish the Hamiltons "bon voyage" before they leave from Montreal on June 25 for 14 months in Europe.

Among the guests were Doctors and Mesdames William Pemberton, George Landrock, Rodney B. Hartman, P. R. Danford, Messrs. and Mesdames Harrison Leppo, Elliot Seymour, Harry Close, Michael Wornum, Eugene McGeorge, Philip Antrobus, Oliver Sollom, Carl Mosher, Carl Priest, L. C. Beringer, Carl Brown, J. C. Lotterhand, William Yockey.

Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Swenson, Jack Crosby, William Marcus, Gordon Harrison, Al Parsons, Gordon Strawbridge, A. J. Oehler, Giun Aurely, Mesdames P. A. Hodgson, Delmar Clinton, Ted Wellman, Rex Searles, Florence Perrine, Ted Shelton, also out-of-town guests Messrs. and Mesdames C. E. Garlington of San Francisco and David Tripplett of Modesto.

Mrs. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. Searles, is entertaining at several parties for her and her husband. Recently Mrs. Searles gave a dinner at Sabella's followed by bridge in her Mill Valley apartment. She is giving a similar party on June 12.

A MOTHER and daughter party will be the luncheon at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco on Monday honoring Susan Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith, who has just graduated from Dominican High School and will be traveling in Europe this summer. Hostesses at the luncheon will be Mesdames S. Nicholas Jacobs, Andrew S. Halley and Frank Paganini. Guests will be Mesdames Smith, Edward Mahoney, Russell Keil, S. N. Smiley, Jr., H. Wallace Hickman, Robert Grady and Francis Donohue and Misses Susan Smith, Pat Mahoney, Molly Keil, Joan Smiley Pat Hickman, Shelia Grady and Mary Donohue.

The following day Susan will be honor guest at a brunch at the Meadow Club when the hostesses will be Mesdames Ralston Hodgson, Paul McArdle and Edgar Lindner. About 40 guests have been invited.

THREE COUPLES were feted at a bon voyage buffet given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McGeorge in their Mill Valley home. Honored were the Peter H. Behrs of Mill Valley, who left for Europe on Tuesday, the William Hamiltons also of Mill Valley who depart for the continent on June 25, and the Carl Browns Jr. of Ross who are going abroad this summer.

WORD HAS been received by Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Quinlan Jr. of Kent Woodlands of the reunion of their son and daughter. Their daughter, Mrs. H. T. Croonquist (Claire Marie Quinlan) and husband, Capt. Croonquist, with their three young sons came from Fort Benning, Ga., for June Week at the United States Military Academy at West Point and celebration of Capt. Croonquist's tenth anniversary of graduation from there. They were joined for the weekend festivities by Mrs. Croonquist's brother, Lt. Richard John Quinlan, aide-de-camp to Gen. Berry at Fort Totten, New York. The Croonquists will visit at Fort Totten on their way back to Fort Benning, also in Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Md. and Fort Monroe, Va.

ABOARD THE 'LURLINE' when she sails on June 19 for Hawaii will be a number of Marin families. With the Howard Goods of Del Mesa will be their daughter, Valerie, a Katharine Branson School graduate, and now a student at Colorado Women's College in Denver, who arrived Wednesday; their son, Tony, who was graduated today from the San Rafael Military Academy and will attend Willamette University in Salem, Ore.; their two younger sons, David, who is graduating from Ross Grammar School, and who will be a SRMA cadet, and Stuart, a second grader.

With Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Dolph) Westphal of Ross will be their daughter, Gloria, a graduate of Mills College and Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design.

Two Sleepy Hollow families are sailing. With Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ghiselli will be their daughter, Judy, a Dominican High School sophomore. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Brocato and their son, Thomas, will be aboard. Tom is going into the sophomore year at San Rafael Military Academy.

A CLASS REUNION at Cornell University is the principal reason for the Eastern trip of Mrs. Paul L. Smith of Sausalito who left Wednesday by plane for Ithaca, N.Y. After meeting many of her former college friends she will go to Olean, N. Y., her childhood home, and to New Haven, Conn., to visit her brother, J. E. Duffy. She will also visit in and around New York before returning on June 26. Her husband will spend a week while she is away at their place at Lake Tahoe, playing some golf.

RETURNED from a trip to the East Coast are Mr. and Mrs. R. Jerrold Hooper of Sausalito. Traveling with them were their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bergin. They spent some time in New York and visited Mrs. Paul Ludolph at her Hyde Park home. Mrs. Ludolph, former resident of Sausalito, is past president of the Sausalito Women's Club. The Hoopers went on to Boston and Cape Cod and the Bergins went to Washington, D.C.

FOR A VISIT with relatives and friends in the Bay Area, Mrs. I. W. Borda, former Marinite, is arriving on Wednesday from her home in Englewood N.J. Her husband will join her here a few days later. Mrs. Borda's visit is being eagerly awaited by her mother, Mrs. G. B. Waterman of San Rafael, her sister, Mrs. Robert Allison of San Anselmo and her daughter, Mrs. James Higgins of Piedmont, and by many friends. The Bordas are going to their place at Fallen Leaf, Tahoe, for a part of their vacation. Mr. Borda is returning east in about a month but his wife will remain several weeks longer.

THE YOUNGER SET had a marvelous time when the Edgar Lindners hosted a hay ride and barbecue recently honoring their daughter, Jane, on her tenth birthday. In a huge hay wagon, painted with gay circus designs and drawn by two huge black horses, the party was taken on an hour and a half ride over mountain roads to Lake Lagunitas for the barbecue. In the group were 20 girls, Jane's classmates at the Ross School, the Lindners, Frank Dettners and Ralston Hodgsons and Sandy Hodgson and Carol Lyons, who assisted in entertaining.

A DINNER was given on Thursday night by Mrs. Sidney Rhoads of Mill Valley honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Donaldson of Belvedere who are leaving for Banff and Lake Louise on Monday.

Patricia Gerdine Wed To James Brogioli

Patricia Gerdine and James Brogioli were married recently in a 6 p.m. ceremony performed at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

The Rev. Edgar Nelson officiated before an altar decorated with baskets of all white flowers that had been arranged by the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Harley E. Waldorff of Strawberry.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerdine of Belvedere - Tiburon, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kompf of Mill Valley.

When she was given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a waltz length gown of white nylon organdie embroidered around the neckline and cap sleeves, and fashioned with full gathered skirt and white satin sash. Her short veil was held by pearl trimmed nylon net leaves, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and white rosebuds.

Marilyn Burkell of Sausalito, the maid of honor, wore a yellow lace and sateen dress, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and pink rosebuds.

James Toso was best man, and ushers were Earl Brown and Ernie Gates—all of Mill Valley.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gerdine wore a fuchsia printed nylon chiffon dress with matching feather hat and black patent leather accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother chose a pale blue nylon lace sheath, blue flowered hat and blue satin pumps. She also wore a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at the Southern Marin Recreation Center, which was decorated in white, yellow and pink. Wedding cake and champagne punch were served, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Pat and Jimmy, as the couple is better known to friends, will live in Larkspur.

The bride is in her junior year at Tamalpais High School and plans to complete her education there. Her husband also attended Tamalpais High School and served a year as a seaman, first class, in the U.S. Navy. He is presently employed by the Custom Home Builders in San Rafael.

Two In Inverness Incident Sue Okos

Two youth, who were arrested last February after an incident at Drake's Arms in Inverness, are suing Capt. and Mrs. Adolph S. Oko, proprietors of Drake's Arms, for more than $100,000 damages.

Eugene H. Schettler, 19, of Inverness, who was convicted of disturbing the peace at the time, and John Oliver Goff, 21, of Pt. Reyes, who was acquitted, filed the suit Thursday in Marin Superior Court. Attorney Guy Ciocca is representing them.

They charge their civil rights were violated, reputation injured, and they were falsely arrested.

Captain Oko, who has maintained he was merely trying to protect his business and patrons from rowdyism, issued a reply through his attorney, Bryan McCarthy:

"My business and guests suffered a rude intrusion by juveniles and a young adult in a threatening and intimidating manner, which was the culmination of several recent incidents involving disturbance of the running of my business.

"In the prior arrest of these persons, I took the only step that I could to protect my guests and property."

During the trial on charges of battery and disturbing the peace, Schettler and Goff contended they entered Drake's Arms for soft drinks and cigarettes, and Captain Oko ordered them to leave. They charged that Oko waved a night stick and threatened them.

Judge Richard M. Sims acquitted Goff, and found Schettler guilty of disturbing the peace.

Two Students Win High Latin Awards

Two Marin Catholic High School students, senior Francis Healy of San Rafael and junior Malcolm McLorg of San Anselmo, won achievement medals and certificates bearing the words "summa cum laude" for their top-ranking scores in a nationwide Latin examination sponsored by Dr. A. E. Warsley and Auxilium Latinum magazine of Elizabeth, N. J.

Thirty thousand students took the test.

Other Marin Catholic students to win awards included seniors Terrence Onorato and James Pulskamp, maxima cum laude; senior Richard Del Tredici and sophomore Robert Egisti, magna cum laude.

Cum laude awards went to seniors John Kelly, Robert Marianetti and David M. Wilson; to juniors Michael Anderson, Thomas Mellon, Arthur Quinn and Richard Quinn, and to sophomores Michael Garvey, Peter McCann and Robert Neilan.

Contest regulations require that is a class enters the competition, all students in the class must take the test. Marin Catholic officials reported that the other 35 students taking the examination each made above-average scores.

Rev. Cornelius Bruns teaches senior and junior Latin; Rev. Donald Pyne teaches sophomore Latin.

Cash Taken From Medical Center

Thieves broke into Twinbrook Medical Center in Novato and stole about $40 in cash but found little or no narcotics, Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine reported yesterday.

Dr. Leo Anthony Wagner, who has offices at the medical center at 1316 Grant avenue, discovered the break-in about 10:30 a.m. Thursday. The offices are used jointly with Dr. Edward F. Healey and Dr. William J. McCann.

A rear window screen had been cut for entry. Drawers and cabinets in all four rooms were ransacked. The thief may have taken a few samples of minor barbituates, but narcotics are not kept in the offices, the doctor reported.

No Free Lawyer For Drug Suspect

Donald Phillip James, 25-year-old amateur botanist accused of growing a "nursery" of marijuana plants at his Mill Valley home, is not eligible for free legal services, Deputy Defender Peter Allen Smith reported.

Judge William Locarnini of Napa, sitting in Marin Municipal Court, ordered James to appear in court with his own lawyer next Friday. He is free on $2,500 bail.

Mill Valley police and sheriff's deputies found 17 potted marijuana plants thriving on the back porch of Jame's home at 59 Crown Court. The suspect is clerk at a surgical supply firm in San Francisco.

James told investigators he grew the plants from seeds obtained in Los Angeles several months ago.

Bill Allowing Illegal Drug Search Wins

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation allowing use of narcotics evidence gained through illegal search and seizure—except that from a home—was passed 22-15 by the Senate Thursday.

A stronger version which the Senate passed last month was rejected by an Assembly committee. It would have allowed use of such evidence even if taken from a man's home.

The new bill by Sen. J. William Beard (D-El Centro) sidesteps the 1955 Cahan decision of the state Supreme Court which held that illegally obtained evidence — gained through violation of the protection against illegal search and seizure in state and federal constitutions—could not be introduced in court.

Beard argued that his bill will help officers run down narcotics violators, yet protect the sanctity of the home.

Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles) argued that use of illegally obtained evidence from one place "is as just as bad as that from another."

Square Dancers Coming To Marin

Square dancers from over the Bay Area will gather at Larkspur's Rose Bowl tomorrow to dance from 4 to 7 p.m.

Jack Jackson of Columbus, Ohio, will do the calling. This will be his only appearance in Northern California.

The dance is being sponsored by the Marin Square Dance Assn. Chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Williams of San Anselmo and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Middagh of San Rafael.

Association spokesmen said the Rose Bowl would be open prior to the dancing for groups who wish to take picnics.

Waitress Seized On Bridge After Talking Of Leap

A 32-year-old San Francisco waitress was taken into custody by the California Highway Patrol early Thursday after telling a CHP officer she "wanted to see if I could walk across the (Golden Gate) bridge without jumping off."

The woman, Mrs. Virginia Bennett, a divorcee and mother of two children, had ridden onto the bridge on a motorcycle with Tom McKay, a Navy enlisted man.

She got off the cycle and started to walk along the bridge sidewalk. McKay alerted highway patrolmen, fearing she might jump, and CHP Officer Charles Woodworth of the San Rafael unit stopped her for questioning.

He placed her in custody and had her sent to a San Francisco hospital for observation after her remark about jumping.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Press Freedom Is A Right Of All; Must Be Defended

Today's guest editorial is written by Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, publisher of La Prensa in Buenos Aires and president of the Inter American Press Association, to which the Independent-Journal is proud to belong.

Tomorrow we in the Americas once more celebrate Freedom of the Press Day.

The majority of Inter American Press Association members publish in countries where freedom of expression and the exercise of our profession are free. In expressing our joy over this fact, we should reaffirm our decision to continue fulfilling our task of reporting the news objectively and of orienting public opinion with independence and without fear.

In these last years we have seen the fall of dictatorships which were an insult to our civilization and our culture, but we must beware of giving in to the easy illusion that progress achieved by the forces of freedom is definite and irrevocable. Past dictators and would-be dictators of the present are lying in wait, ready to take advantage of any opportunity offered them.

Today, more than ever, our constant vigilance is necessary; we must denounce before continental and world opinion any attempt at retrogression, whether such attempt be by governments or by anyone who acts with the support or consent of the authorities.

Our people should not be fooled by those who use the vocabulary of democracy and freedom to disguise actions that lead to the curtailment of our liberties.

Let us continue impressing upon the minds of our readers the conviction that freedom of the press is not a privilege or a monopoly of newspapers, but rather a right that belongs to all of us and that we must all defend it if we wish to avoid the disaster and the humiliation of tyranny.

Let us also devote this day to remembering our colleagues who still suffer persecution in countries of the Western Hemisphere which have not yet recovered their freedom. They must know that they are not alone.

The IAPA will never give up a fight that can only end with their complete liberation.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE

Net Depot Should Remain Public

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Please allow me to set the record straight on the news item of Wednesday, May 27, about the Paradise Drive Property Owners Association meeting. The item asserted that the Association petitioned against use of the Naval Net Depot Annex (when disposed of) as a concessionaire-type recreation area.

The petition presented asked no such thing. It asked that the Depot be auctioned off to private parties, split up and used for private housing. That is a lot different.

If these people get their way as here asked, a gorgeous waterfront park, with a fine sand beach and good daytime boat mooring, will be chopped up and made inaccessible to us forever. Worst hurt will be the people of Tiburon Peninsula; next all Marin County people.

This area is public land now (Federally held). It should remain public land when it changes hands, under the county schools, or under the county recreation division.

This is what our "minority of five" voted for at that meeting.

Marin Not Place To Rear Children

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The recent revolting incident in which a young man, who, incidentally, worked around my place last year to earn enough to buy his parents Christmas presents, was so badly beaten up by a Marin teen-age "wolf pack" allegedly led by a 22-year-old college student, should, I sincerely hope, cause others to stop, take stock, and write their first letter to an editor.

I am astonished that our police reportedly extended the convenience to the pack leader of stopping to cash a check at the bank to pay his bail. Is this courtesy extended to other persons under arrest?

If these "wolf packs" get away with such cowardly, criminal and unprovoked attacks with a slap on the wrist because of our amorality, complacency and lack of courage, I want to go on record as saying that Marin County is not the place I want to bring up my children; and, should this letter be printed, I am regretfully prepared, if need be, to move my family to a place of greater safety.

TINY HOLE EMPTIES RESERVOIR

A tiny hole in a 400-foot dam was the undoing of a 30-million gallon reservoir in New Jersey recently.

Although the small leak seemed relatively insignificant, it soon eroded into a gaping hole and threatened the collapse of the 123-year-old dam.

Many of the great problems of our age have their origin in defects which, like the little hole in the dam, are discounted as of minor importance. But minute acts of dishonesty, corruption and subversion can be the beginnings of a deadly breakdown.

In today's fast moving world your continual vigilance is urgently needed.

While avoiding extremes, be ever on the alert to detect the slightest flaws or faults which can spread, with a galloping speed, once they gain the upper hand.

What you, as one person, do—or fail to do—counts more than you think to promote God's truth and to nip evil in the bud.

"He who causeth a sinner to be converted from the error of his way, shall save his soul from death, and shall cover a multitude of sins." (James 5:20)

Grant, O Lord, that I may always nurture the seeds of goodness and resist the beginnings of evil.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

It Takes Many Printed Words To Pass Law, But It's Worth It

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Every bill proposed in the state Legislature is printed in the state Printing Plant. Every time a bill is amended, it is reprinted.

Senator John F. McCarthy's proposed Golden Gate authority bill went through radical changes before it was finally converted into its present shape.

At it started out, it was 44 pages long. As it finished up, it was two pages and eight lines. In between, it was amended seven times, getting up to 50 pages at its thickest point.

Thus it was that when the bill finally won approval of the State Senate, a total of 368 pages had been printed for this one measure.

Normal printing for each bill is 1,900 copies each time. So the authority bill, now the Golden Gate Commission bill, thus far has been a printing job equal to reproducing 1,900 copies of a 368 page book, about two inches thick.

If you figure that it averages about $10 or $11 per page to print these bills, you'll find they cost the taxpayers of California about $3,680 or $4,048. And there still may be more amendments.

But you shouldn't object to such an expenditure as this, even though more than 4,000 bills were introduced at this session of the legislature.

Having the bills printed and available for everyone (you can get two copies free), means that everyone can know exactly what laws the solons are considering and can decide for himself whether it will favorably or unfavorably affect him.

Cost of printing the bills is a small charge for the security it provides.

AND SOMETIMES watching the bills as they are amended is of vital importance to a business or an individual. Take for example Senate Bill 603.

SB 603 started out to be a bill limiting the right of a California manufacturer of distilled spirits in his sale of same to distributors or retailers.

But it was amended. The amendment struck out every line of the original bill. In its place were these words:

"Section 23363 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed."

That's all it now says.

Those 10 words are vital to the American Distilling Co. in Sausalito. The words being repealed are those which give American Distilling a concession, the privilege of selling directly to distributors or retailers.

In California law, liquor manufacturers may not sell to distributors or retailers unless the manufacturer is a California firm.

For years, American Distilling has been California's only liquor manufacturer. But recently, Schenley's put up a plant in Fresno. Some distributors, wholesalers, could see other plants coming in and selling directly to retailers. It worried them. So the bill, SB 603, was introduced to limit such direct sales to only the premises of the manufacturer or a warehouse within the same county as the manufacturing plant.

Then other state liquor manufacturers, who never have been able to sell directly to retailers, got into the act. They amended it.

American Distilling is in trouble. Already the bill has passed the Senate. It was on the Consent Calendar and no voice was raised for home industry on the Senate floor.

If they want to continue direct sales, which we are told they do more in San Francisco than in Marin, they must defeat the bill in the Assembly.

But it isn't going to be easy.

Nixon Getting A Lot Of Miles Out Of Vice Presidency In Many Ways

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon, who wants to go places, is getting a lot of mileage out of the vice presidency, and not just in distance traveled.

True, he's traveled a lot — more than 280,000 miles since he took office in 1953. Although this is much less than the 560,000 miles logged by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Nixon visited more countries: 54 to Dulles' 46.

In July, thanks to President Eisenhower's determination to make good use of his vice president, Nixon will chalk up another 10,000 miles when he goes to Moscow to open an American fair.

These trips have been good for Nixon politically, since they keep him in the public eye. None so far may have been so important for him as the trip to the Soviet Union may be.

THERE, IF HE talks with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and comes away looking good from the American viewpoint, so much the better for him. He can hardly lose. Khrushchev wants a summit meeting with Eisenhower. He is not likely to jeopardize it by giving Nixon a hard time.

If Nixon has a hand in arranging the summit meeting expected late this summer, that's more political gravy.

If anyone doubts Nixon is aiming at the Republican presidential nomination in 1960, all he needs to do is remember that Nixon last month added a veteran political campaigner to his staff: Herbert B. Klein, editor of the San Diego (Calif.) Union.

KLEIN WILL BE Nixon's special assistant in charge of press relations — he was an assistant to him in the 1956 campaign for his re-election and in the 1958 congressional campaigns — and will accompany him to Moscow. He is understood to have signed up with Nixon through the 1960 campaign.

Through his Moscow trip, and no doubt others to follow, Nixon should be able for many months to stay in the spotlight better than the man considered his closest rival for the presidential nomination: New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Nixon could ruin himself on his international trips if he made any slips. But he is careful and conservative, as he knows he has to be, since he is in a secondary position now and directly answerable to Eisenhower for what he says and does.

EVEN A DISASTROUS trip turned out all right for Nixon. This was his journey last year to Latin America where he was stoned and spat upon. It brought him a lot of public sympathy, and no criticism except for making the journey in the first place.

The State Department was blamed for that, at least for not knowing Nixon might get that treatment because of anti-American feeling there.

This country recognized that what happened to the vice president was not aimed at him personally but was a reaction to American policies in Latin America.

Quiet Campaign Being Waged For Public Defender Job —Just In Case

A quiet campaign is being waged for the post of Marin County Public Defender.

The fact that such a move is under way indicates that the present public defender Leonard Thomas, is believed headed straight for the new judgeship in Marin Municipal Court.

Prominent attorney Julius Selinger was reported in the running for judge the past few weeks, but the latest word is that he may have, or has, withdrawn.

If Thomas moves up to judge, Deputy Public Defender Peter Allen Smith is in line for the public defender's post. He's an able man and has had the experience.

Joseph Henneberry, deputy county clerk for nine years, also is pushing for the public defender's job. He is not practicing law now, but says he has practiced in the past "in many counties in the state."

Henneberry feels that long public service should be rewarded with a promotion — say the public defender's job.

JUST AS I suspected, those fresh flowers at the World War I monument in front of the courthouse just don't sprout by themselves. They are aided and abetted by Lena Tyrrell and the Marinita Parlor of the Native Daughters.

SUSAN HAYWARD'S younger sister in town?

Nope, she's a young mother who lives a couple of blocks from downtown Mill Valley. Mrs. America sponsors probably missed one of their best bets in not looking into the situation.

Our informant estimates she's about 5-5 and 125 pounds, and Mrs. America caliber from any angle.

Any beauty scouts in town?

THE ARMY WALKED off with top honors in the latest inter-service rivalry on a deserted Paradise Drive hillside this week. Somebody found a boxful of dynamite, nitroglycerine oozing from the sides, itching to go off. Experts from one branch of the service warned: "Move it one foot, and it might blow up!"

Along came two Army men who lumbered up, grabbed the box and stole the thunder from under the noses of the others, who took cover. They carted it off to Ft. Baker for disposal.

"Either they're super-experts or they're crazy," said a deputy sheriff, wiping his brow.

IF YOU WORK for the county and ruin your clothes on duty, there's a good chance you'll be reimbursed.

The county set a sort of precedent the other day by paying $11 to a juvenile hall supervisor who tore his pants playing ball with the kids.

YOU SHOULD HAVE seen Deputy Sheriff Leo Ballard, in full uniform and side-arm, astride his trusty prowl car, trying to round up a stray cow on Highway 101 near Lucas Valley this week.

His blow-by-blow radio report to his boss went something like this: "Oops, she altered her course, got away. She's headed for the wide open highways. Still going strong."

HAPPIEST MAN on the Fifth Avenue storm drain project is the heavy scoop operator. Have you heard him singing Italian opera at the top of his voice?

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

All Is Not Well In The Pentagon; Something Must Be Done About It

All is not well in the Pentagon. The most lacerating inter-service controversies are again pouring over into the headlines.

There is the Army-Air Force controversy over the Nike-versus Bomarc anti-bomber, anti-missile missile.

There is the Pentagon-Congress contraoersy over whether the Defense Department or the politicians shall decide which of these weapons will better do the job. There is the Navy-Air Force controversy over the Polaris-firing submarine which, because it delivers a 1,500-mile missile, the Air Force yearns to take over.

ARMY SECRETARY Wilber Brucker is in the doghouse—somebody's doghouse. Army Chief of Staff Gen. Maxwell Taylor is in the doghouse — as Gen. Matthew Ridgway was before him. And Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Arleigh Burke may well be in the doghouse when the full facts of the abandoned $441,000,000 program to get an operational long-range jet naval bomber, the Seamaster, come out.

But these controversies are the effects, not the cause, of this sorry spectacle.

The cause is the continuing, bitter, damaging, and disgraceful struggle to be first — the struggle for priority and dominance — among the Army, Air Force, and Navy.

THREE TIMES SINCE the end of World War II, the military and civilian set-up of the armed forces has been reorganized. Each time it was going to end divisive, wasteful rivalry. Last year President Eisenhower sent to Congress a new Pentagon reorganization program which he declared would end the need for reorganization, stop inter-service bickering.

It hasn't.

There is more disunity and strife among the Joint Chiefs of Staff today than ever before.

There is more inter-service bickering and me-first rivalry than ever before.

And when the Joint Chiefs of Staff do not make firm, joint decisions on competing weapons and competing roles of the services, they invite Congress to make them — and this is the last place where military decisions should be made.

As a matter of fact, my information is that the real reason the President has recalled Adm. Radford to the Pentagon is to try to end this dangerous sequence of split positions.

WHAT'S WRONG? Either the system is wrong or we are just the victims of an unfortunate collection of perverse military chiefs.

This latter conclusion I reject totally and I believe that every informed correspondent would do the same. They are able, honest, high-minded men.

Nothing is to be gained by consigning the joint chiefs, or the service secretaries to the doghouse. That is the way to cover up the problem, not to solve it. They are the prisoners of service pressures they cannot, under the present set-up, successfully resist — as have been their predecessors.

What is clear at this stage is that the Defense reorganization which the Administration put through Congress last year is not yet equal to the problem. If separate, competing commands of the three services cannot remove the extremes of inter-service jealousy and strife then further steps are imperative.

NEW REDWOODS CHURCH—Pleasant lines of new Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur are seen in this photo of the side of the new building facing the old structure.

Service On June 14 Dedicates New Redwoods Church

The new church building of the Redwoods Presbyterian Church of Larkspur will be dedicated at a special service Sunday, June 14, at 3 p.m.

Dr. Thomas Holden of Greenbrae, executive secretary and stated clerk of the Presbyterian Synod of California, will deliver the sermon.

Also participating in the dedicatory rites will be Dr. Neil Q. Hamilton, professor of New Testament studies at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, and Rev. Martin Crabb, pastor of the Federated Church of Healdsburg and moderator of the Presbytery of the Redwoods.

Tours of the new building will follow the service and a fellowship hour will be conducted in the Sunday school rooms.

Morning worship services will be conducted by Rev. Wayne M. Hansen, pastor, at 9:30 and 11 a.m. on June 14. Sunday school classes, which have met in eight different homes since September, will be held for the first time in their new quarters.

Designed by Donald Powers Smith, San Francisco architect, the church at Magnolia and Alexander avenues was built by Ray I. Johnson, Kentfield contractor, at a cost of $106,875. Charles A. Rowe of Corte Madera is chairman of the building committee.

Seating capacity of the new church is 265. Iits architectural style is contemporary, with a spatial expression similar to many English parish churches.

REINFORCED CONCRETE

The construction essentially is of reinforced concrete in floor and walls, with special reinforced concrete masonary units in the upper walls.

Architect Smith said the church's heavy timbered roof construction involves "a unique horizontal truss over the aisles to receive the main ceiling beams to the nave and to eliminate the requirement for these beams to be trussed."

The first unit of the Redwoods Presbyterian Church was built 10 years ago on the northwest side of the site, facing Magnolia avenue. Dedicated in February, 1950, it will be converted to a fellowship hall. A kitchen and office space will be added.

The newly completed unit occupies the southeast portion of the property, along Alexandria avenue.

THIRD UNIT

A third unit, now in the planning stage, will connect the first two and form a sunlit garden court opening under the redwood tree groupings, toward Magnolia.

Around the lower-level court will be a grouping of glass-walled rooms for the children. The new unit contains three such rooms for children of preschool and kindergarten age, as well as a hospital-type crib room for infants.

The new building also has a heavy redwood-topped communion table with a base of glass mosaic, a central redwood-and-glass mosaic cross in the chancel and plastic-crystal openings in the Narthex screen toward the church entrance.

Retreats Set For Summer In San Rafael

Rev. Vincent James O'Connell, S.M., noted theologian and labor consultant of Cleveland, Ohio, will conduct this year's weekend series of Marist Fathers' summertime retreats in Marin, it has been announced by George Higgins, chairman of the laymen's advisory committee.

Designed for men of all faiths, who wish to take spiritual inventory in the solitude of a weekend away from worldly responsibilties, the retreats will start at St. Peter Chanel Seminary in San Rafael on Friday, June 26 and continue each weekend through Aug. 21. They will begin each Friday at 7 p.m. and close at 5 p.m. each Sunday.

Those interested in attending the retreats may write to Marist Fathers' summertime retreats, 1670 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Special Speaker Due At Calvary Baptist

Rev. Robert Johnson, director of the Fellowship of Baptists for Home Missions, will speak at tomorrow's services of Calvary Baptist Church, Larkspur.

The following Sunday, June 14, the church's Sunday school will present a "children's day" program, announced Rev. Michael Barkowska, pastor.

STATUE OF CHRIST FOR CEMETERY

A seven-foot-tall marble statue of Christ with arms outstretched, replica of this one at Abbey Memorial Gardens in Vallejo, is being fashioned for Fernwood Cemetery in Tamalpais Valley. It is expected to be installed atop a hill in the re-groomed Marin cemetery by next Memorial Day. The sculptor is Bernhard Zuckerman of New York and Carrara, Italy.

Sect's Missionaries Training At 'City Of God' In Arizona

BISBEE, Ariz. (AP)—Frivolities like liquor, lipstick, tobacco and ornate jewelry are forbidden to residents of southern Arizona's newest community.

But nevertheless Miracle Valley, founded only last summer as a "City of God" and a ministerial training ground, is growing rapidly.

Last October, the little settlement in Cochise County, 15 miles west of Bisbee, had a population of about 150. Now there are some 300 residents and newcomers are arriving weekly.

More than one fourth of the residents are students who, upon completion of their training, will be expected to go forth and preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ under A. A. Allen, the controversial revivalist-faith healer who founded Miracle Valley.

Allen is head of A. A. Allen Revivals, Inc., of Dallas, Tex., and has a nationwide reputation for his tent meetings.

Allen claims that, through the intercession of God, he has cured many sick and restored a number of crippled persons at his spirited revivals.

Miracle Valley sprawls over some 2,400 acres of range land not far from the Mexican border.

Half the land was a gift from Urban Leindecker, a rancher-cowboy

Rally Scheduled For Church Youth

A rally for junior high school age church groups will be held at the Mill Valley Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, June 14. Church youth from all parts of the county are invited to be guests of the Mill Valley group, according to group leader Mrs. David Friesen.

Skits, musical numbers, refreshments and a get-acquainted period will be included. The program begins at 4 p.m. at the church, 285 Miller avenue.

Church To Note 6th Anniversary

The Gospel Fellowship Church of Marin City will observe its sixth anniversary tomorrow and next week with three special services, its pastor, Rev. Leon D. Samuels, announced today.

The services will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow, 7:45 p.m. next Thursday, and 3 p.m. next Sunday, June 14, in the church premises in Building 403.

The church started in June, 1953, with a membership of six.

Contributions Up

NASHVILLE (AP)—Receipts of the Southern Baptist convention during the first quarter of 1959 totalled $10,910,872, an increase of $847,105 or 8.42 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago.

Look Who's Laughing Now In A.L. Race

By Associated Press

The joke was good while it lasted, but it's the New York Yankees, no longer the stumbling, cellar-dwelling world champions, who are having the laugh now.

Laugh? They're roaring, so to speak, and the rest of the American League is discovering it was a mistake not to throw dirt in on the champs when they had 'em in a hole.

Nobody spurted while the Yankees sputtered, except for Detroit's Tigers, and they were in the same fix as New York. Now, after winning eight of their last 10 games, the champs have shot within 4½ games of the top.

They nailed their third straight last night with a rollicking, 11-1 romp at Cleveland as the Injuns dropped their sixth straight.

The Injuns led the league by two games when the skid started. Now they're 1½ games behind Chicago's leading White Sox, who defeated Boston 5-2, and are in a virtual tie for second with the Baltimore Orioles, who won 6-1 at Kansas City.

SKIDDING NATS

Detroit took fifth place from Washington by beating the Senators 7-6, skidding the Nats to seventh as the Yankees muscled into sixth in the jam-packed run on the leaders.

The Yankees swung for 17 hits, six for extra bases, against loser Gary Bell (4-5) and three relievers. Gil McDougald hit his first home run of the season and Elston Howard his seventh.

A three-run, pinch double by Harry Simpson broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth for the White Sox. Gerry Staley was the winner in relief of Early Wynn.

Gus Triandos' 12th home run sewed it up for the Orioles, just .003 percentage points behind Cleveland, in the third inning against Ned Garver (4-4).

A single by Al Kaline won it for the Tigers in the ninth, scoring ex-Senator Eddie Yost.

Newcombe Shows Old Form In 3-Hit Win Over Giants

CINCINNATI (AP)—Don Newcombe is carving out a new pitching career for himself, largely at the expense of the San Francisco Giants.

The Cincinnati Redlegs pitcher beat them for the third straight time this season last night 7-2 and ran his over-all record to 5-4. This is the first time in almost two years the right-hander has a record of more victories than defeats.

Newcombe, who won the Cy Young award and was the National League's most valuable player, while with Brooklyn in 1956, gave up just three blows in his latest triumph over the Giants.

Sam Jones (5-5) pitched today for San Francisco against Cincinnati's Bob Purkey (6-5). Jones was 0-1 against Cincinnati and Purkey 0-2 against the Giants.

Those who got the three blows off Newcombe were Daryl Spencer, in the fifth; Willie Kirkland, in the sixth; and Orlando Cepeda, in the ninth.

Kirkland's blow was his sixth homer of the season. Cepeda's single came in the ninth when the Giants got their other run. Kirkland walked, went to third on the single and crossed the plate on a wild pitch.

Newcombe struck out six and walked two.

The Redlegs fattened their extra base marks on loser Johnny Antonelli, now 7-3.

Roy McMillan homered in the third and Johnny Temple led off with a four-bagger in the Reds' five-run sixth. After two were out, Frank Robinson, Dick Dotterer and Walt Dropo doubled off the left-hander. Al Worthington took over and gave up run scoring singles to Frank Thomas, McMillan and Newcombe. Dom Zanni finally got the side out by getting Temple to line out to Willie Mays.

Vada Pinson walked in the seventh and scored on Gus Bell's double.

The defeat left the second-place Giants 2½ games behind Milwaukee, beaten 5-1 by the Dodgers. The Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh's third-place Pirates, who had won six straight, 10-5. The St. Louis at Philadelphia game was rained out.

Stocky Johnny Podres won his fourth straight for the Dodgers with a seven-hitter at Milwaukee.

Dale Long homered in a three-run first inning for the Cubs, once more at .500, and Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer, his 13th, as Chicago put it away against Vern Law (5-3) in a four-run second.

EAGLETS TOP TIGERS

The Eaglets knocked over the Tigers 5-2 last night in the Mill Valley American Little League.

Calhoun Rally Earns Draw With Tiger

NEW YORK (AP)—On the theory that one good fight deserves another, Dick Tiger and Rory Calhoun probably will do it again, July 16 at Syracuse, N.Y.

Calhoun closed strong to get a draw with the British Empire middleweight champion Friday night at Madison Square Garden. By winning the 10th round on all three official scorecards, Calhoun escaped defeat.

Referee Mark Conn had it 5-5 in both rounds and points. Judge Bill Recht had Tiger a 6-3-1 winner and Judge Bill Forst thought Calhoun deserved an edge 5-4-1. The AP card was 5-5 with Tiger the winner 6-5 on points because of a decisive edge in the fourth.

3 Semi-Pro Tilts In Marin Tomorrow

Marin County's semi-professional baseball schedule moves into full gear tomorrow with three games on local diamonds, including the opening game of the season for the Mill Valley VFW Merchants at their new field near Locust.

The Veterans take on a Bay Area team beginning at 2:30 p.m. Manager Bill Price announced his starting Mill Valley lineup as pitcher Bill Bowen, catcher Dan Malugani, first baseman Ed Kemp, second baseman Don Palia, shortstop Bill Eberhart, third baseman Bill Rosa and outfielders Jerry Harmon, Bill Jambois and Dick Teal.

The other county games tomorrow find Tiburon hosting the Realm Realty of San Francisco at 2:30 with Fred Thurman or Fred DeMartini pitching and San Anselmo's Ongaro Plumbers meeting the B and B Service team of Rodeo at 1:30 at Memorial Park, San Anselmo.

Last Sunday Manager Dom Boccabella's Plumbers opened their season with a 9-0 rout of the Jeffersons from San Francisco.

Lefty Bobby DeRosa, who will hurl again tomorrow, set down the Jeffs for the eight innings he worked, striking out a dozen. High schooler Nino Geminiani relieved him in the ninth.

The Plumbers blasted out 13 hits, including a two-run homer by DeRosa and triples by Ralph Boccabella and "Pistol Pete" Arrigoni. The latter along with shortstop Milt Hain each had three hits while Ralph Boccabella and De Rosa each had a pair.

Gellatti Sets Keg Record At Greenbrae

Zeno Gelatti of San Rafael last night set a new four-game record at Greenbrae Lanes when he posted a sensational 941 total in the "530" Scratch Trio League.

The big, veteran pinmaster set the mark with games of 205, 225, 247 and 264, averaging 235 per game.

The Lanes' management said the total is a new record at the new bowling house.

Following are high three-game series scores in Thursday night leagues at Greenbrae Lanes:

Early League—Gene Griebel, 567; L. J. Kirkhoff, 549; F. Hamann, 545.

Terra-Marin League — J. Bateson, 547; Kelly, 517; N. Ruecker, 511.

Night Owls—Clark Carlson, 555; Roy Peterson, 536; Bob Curtin, 531.

Class B—Mrs. Hugh Cavalli, 92-26—66; Mrs. Phil Schafer, 102-32—70; Mrs. Lester Calender, 101-29—72.

Class C—Mrs. Garry Conzelman, 106-36—70; Mrs. William Hurley, 109-36—73; Mrs. Andre Hahn, 110-36—74.

Dawson Captures Sr. Golf Again

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—At the age of 56, Johnny Dawson is a model of consistency in golf.

The Palm Desert, Calif., real estate operator, runner-up for the U.S. amateur title 12 years ago, became eligible for the United States Seniors' Golf Assn. Tournament last year. He won with a 143.

Yesterday he won again and again his 36-hole card read 143. Last year the 9-hole breakdown was 70-73. This year it was 72-71.

Although a ranking amateur since the late 1920s, Dawson never won a national title until he joined the senior ranks.

Virgil Roby of West Hartford, Conn., was second with a 148. J. Wolcott Brown, Sea Girt, N.J., trailed by another three strokes for third place.

Javelin Record

COMPTON (AP)—Unheralded Al Cantello of the U.S. Marine Corps bettered the world record in the javeline throw Friday night at the 20th annual Compton Invitation Relays.

Cantello threw the spear 282 feet 3½ inches, surpassing the recognized world record of 281 feet 2½, set in the 1956 Olympics by Egil Danielsen of Norway.

Cops Guard Oakland Ring Promoter In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A constant police guard is protecting the boxing promoter who came here to supervise tonight's fights at Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Don Chargin is taking over for Jackie Leonard, who was beaten at his home Wednesday night.

Chargin was given the police escort after he disclosed that he received a telephoned threat in Oakland, warning him that he would receive the same treatment that was accorded his friend, Leonard.

Leonard is still partially paralyzed from the beating administered by two men, who sprang at him as he lifted his garage door. Police say they have no clue in the case.

In Sacramento, Dr. Dan O. Kilroy, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said fight hoodlums "are one of the toughest problems we've had to deal with in this country."

He said the mob elements have no foothold in California and that only "over our dead body will they ever get in here."

Leonard told the athletic commission last month that his life and that of Don Nesseth, manager of welterweight champion Don Jordan, had been threatened by underworld figures who demanded a 15 per cent interest in Jordan's contract.

Commissioner Douglas Hayden said in San Francisco that the beating of Leonard was "one of the filthiest, rottenest things that could possibly happen and something like this attack could kill boxing entirely."

"Nobdy will sit still for any mobsters pulling this stuff," he added.

A police guard is watching over Leonard at a Los Angeles hospital.

4 Titles In 8 NBL Sports Is Tam High Record

Winning four championships in eight North Bay League sports, Tamalpais High School athletes enjoyed a successful spring season, Athletic Director Jim Hanretty reported today.

The varsity won a tie with Redwood for the NBL swimming title while the Class B swim team won an undisputed crown. Tam's other title teams were tennis and Class B track.

Hanretty said, "Of 95 scheduled contests we won a great majority." He said 191 boys participated in sports and 129 won letters.

Tam's spring season was busy as the Mill Valley school hosted the North Bay League and invitational swimming meets and the Marin County Track and Field Championships.

Fresno State Nips Washington, 3 To 2

SEATTLE (AP) — A ninth-inning pinch single by Leroy Gregory gave Fresno State College a 3-2 victory over Washington last night in the first game of the NCAA District 8 baseball playoffs.

The second game of the best-of-three series is being played this afternoon, with a third game following immediately if necessary.

Archers Invited To Marin Contest

All Marin County archers are invited to participate in a "Surprise Handicap Shoot" tomorrow at the Northwoods Bowmen's Club range east of Santa Venetia.

Registration is set for 8 to 10:30 a.m. The club will offer free instructions and top shooters will be awarded prizes, according to President Stan Goldsmith. "All men, women and children archers are invited to attend," he said.

Dexter To Be Installed By Lions Club

Oakley W. Dexter Jr. will be installed as president of the Larkspur Lions Club today at a dinner meeting at Bob's of Marin Restaurant, Corte Madera, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Dexter, owner of Dexter's Television and Radio Service, will succeed John Barry, Larkspur insurance broker.

Installation officer will be Harry H. Martin of Napa, Lions district governor.

Other officers to be inducted are Mortimer Coombs, first vice president; Dr. William McCann, second vice president; Robert Krieg, third vice president; Dale Eubanks, secretary; Kenneth Anderson, treasurer, and George Ankers, tail twister and lion tamer.

The new officers will serve on the board of directors along with Frank Evansco, Charles Young and Louis Schmitt.

Buttons for 100 per cent attendance at club meetings will be awarded to Clifford Archer, Randolph C. Doherty, Ernest Epidendio, Hil Probert, Barry, Dexter, Eubanks and Evansco.

Two professional entertainment acts will be featured at the installation dinner, which will be preceded by a party at 6 p.m. in the home of Neil Brixon of Greenbrae.

Falling Boat Injures Man

Theodore Brown, 26, was severely injured internally yesterday when a boat weighing about 900 pounds fell on him.

Taken to Marin General Hospital, he was reported in "fair" condition today.

The accident occurred at Trailorboat Engineering Co. on Francisco boulevard, where Brown is employed. He lives at 1565 Fourth street, San Rafael.

According to the accident report, supports holding the boat gave way and the vessel's windshield caught Brown across the back.

Wein To Be Given Mental Exams

Edward S. Wein, whose five death sentences were commuted to life imprisonment without possibility of parole by Gov. Edmund G. Brown on Thursday, left San Quentin Prison for the Vacaville Reception Center yesterday, the day his execution had been scheduled.

The 35-year-old Los Angeles rapist will undergo a complete psychological evaluation and possibly have psychiatric therapy for the next three months. Then he will be returned to San Quentin or sent to Folsom.

Sanitary Board To Set Budget

The Tiburon Sanitary District board will hold an adjourned meeting Monday at 8 p.m. to set the final 1959-60 budget, according to board secretary Robert A. Sterling.

The district plans to ask for the second year the maximum tax rate of 60 cents per $100 assessed valuation, in order to build up reserve funds, Sterling said.

Last year, the district operated on 47 cents of the 60-cent levy, with the balance going to the reserve fund, he reported.

Kents To Give Fee To Center In Marin City

A check for an unspecified amount to be given to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kent for the use of their estate for the Ballet Aquacade, is earmarked for use by the Marin City Recreation Center, it was announced today.

The check is being given the center, staffed with volunteers to serve 285 children, at the request of the Kents.

The check from the Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae unit of the Marin Junior Theater, will be given at the end of the final performance of the aquacade tomorrow.

The Marin City Center is open daily from 3-5:30 p.m. and from 7-10 p.m.

Mill Valley Library Board Meet Set

Mill Valley Library Board members have set July 22 as the date for a special meeting for discussion of long-range plans.

Trustees Thursday also discussed recommendations to the mayor for candidates to fill two posts in which terms expire at the end of this month. They are those of President Robert Jenkins and Robert C. Cook. The latter has indicated he will be unable to serve another year. Jenkins has not announced what he will do.

San Rafael Might Get State Aid For Recreation Plan

A state recreation official told the San Rafael Recreation and Park Commission Wednesday night he thinks the city can qualify for state aid to pay for half the cost of a master plan for recreation facilities.

But Elton Andrews, regional planning officer for the state, said there are several points that must be ironed out first. He said he would write a letter to Recreation Director Joseph Rodota, outlining the various steps necessary to qualify for state aid.

The city is hoping the state will chip in half the cost of hiring a consultant firm to draw up a master plan showing such facilities as a recreation center and a pool. The cost of a master plan is estimated to be $7,500.

Judge Grants New Trial In Damage Suit

Novato plumber Glen Lee Hall, 42, who asked for $150,000 damages for injuries suffered in an auto accident in 1957, should have received more than the $6,791 which a jury awarded last April 28, a Marin Superior Court judge has decided.

Hall, represented by San Francisco attorney Jack E. Burnam, sued the other driver, Everett Murphy, San Rafael contractor, over a collision on Sept. 12, 1957.

San Rafael attorney Richard V. Bettini defended Murphy and his insurance company in a one-week trial. After the jury award, Hall asked for a new trial.

Thursday, Judge N. Charles Brusatori ruled that a new trial would be granted, unless both parties agree that Hall should get $13,500. The judge decided that the $6,791 verdict was not justified by the evidence presented.

Attorney Bettini declared he feels the jury considered all the evidence, and the original verdict should stand. "I honestly feel that $13,500 is too high," he asserted. Bettini indicated he may fight the new trial by appealing to the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

Drake High Pupils Elect

Richard Sater yesterday was elected president of the Sir Francis Drake High School student body, nosing out Tom Pringle.

Sater and other officers will serve for the 1959-60 school year.

Others elected were Tom Sanner, vice president; Beverley Bordi, secretary; Susan Detweiler, treasurer; the White Caps, led by Roxie Collins, song leading team, and the Triumphs, led by Pat Serio, yell-leading team.

S. F. Jury To Hear 2 In Slaying Case

John Henry Fry, 52, who was committed to San Quentin Prison for a murder that another man has now confessed, will testify before the San Francisco Grand Jury on Monday night.

Fry began a one-to-10-year term on Dec. 10 for his manslaughter conviction in the death of Elvira Hay, 47, his common-law wife.

Also testifying before the grand jury will be Richard T. Cooper, 32, who gave himself up to police early Thursday and voluntarily confessed two murders—that of Miss Hay last August and of Erlean Mosley, 37, last Wednesday.

If Cooper's story holds up, Gov. Edmund G. Brown will be asked to pardon Fry, said Norman Elkington, San Francisco chief deputy district attorney.

Death Penalty Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the San Diego court murder conviction and death sentence of Harvey M. Glatman, 30, Los Angeles television repairman, for the strangulation slaying of two women.

Driver Hurt As Car Goes Off Highway

Jim E. Smith, 20-year-old Stinson Beach mill hand, suffered bruises to his back and scalp at 9 p.m. yesterday when his southbound car failed to make a turn on Shoreline highway one mile south of Olema, reported Officer T. E. McGuire of the California Highway Patrol.

Smith told Officer McGuire his auto's wheels locked as he went into the turn. The car hit a bank and overturned.

A 7-year-old Terra Linda girl, Anne Strathairn, suffered cuts and bruises when her head hit the windshield of a station wagon driven by her mother, Mrs. Mary F. Strathairn, 35, of 640 Bamboo Terrace, at 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

CHP Officer Raymond Kirner said the Strathairn vehicle struck the rear of the stopped car of Donna Marie DeMartini, 21, of 518 Easterby street, Sausalito.

The DeMartini car in turn struck the rear of a car driven by Josephine Helen Broderick, 59, of San Francisco, who was waiting to make a left turn from the westbound lanes of Sir Francis Drake boulevard onto McAllister avenue, Kentfield, said Officer Kirner.

3 Marinites Win U. C. Scholarships

Three Marin County winners of University of California Alumni Assn. scholarships of $400 each were announced today by Noble Hamilton Jr. of Ross, chairman of the local selection committee.

The three are Michele Mareck of Novato High School, Richard Del Tredici of Marin Catholic High School and Timothy Thomas of Tamalpais High School. All three will be University of California entering freshmen in the fall.

Miss Mareck, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Mareck of 100 Chamberlain avenue, Novato, has served as Novato High School student body president and vice president, head yell leader, president of the American Field Service Club, member of Girls Athletic Assn. and student council.

Eighteen-year-old Del Tredici is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Del Tredici of 329 Laurel avenue, San Anselmo. He is Marin Catholic's student body president, president of the student council and a member of the varsity football, basketball and baseball teams.

Thomas, 18-year-old senior at Tamalpais High School, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Thomas of 933 East Blithedale aveue, Mill Valley. He is a varsity basketball team member, Junior Statesmen of America member, honor society officer, and homeroom representative of the student congress.

Miss Mareck and Del Tredici made 3.7 grade point averages. Thomas had a 3.3 average. (An A equals four points and B, three points.)

Morals Offense Suspect Seized

James Robert Wirt, 32, of 150 Montevista avenue, Mill Valley, is free on $2,500 bail on a charge of lewd and lascivious conduct with a 4-year-old child in Mill Valley on May 30.

He was arrested last evening by Officer Dan Terzich of Mill Valley Police. Wirt is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Daughter For Deputy

Sheriff's deputies have been smoking cigars the past few days. Deputy John Harris passed them around to announce the birth of a daughter. Debora Lynn, eight pounds, three ounces, arrived at San Rafael General Wednesday.

Dog Believed Stolen During Houseboat Fire

A possible "dog-napping" was a sidelight of last night's Sausalito houseboat fire, it was learned today.

Mrs. Marge Mapes, who lives alone in a houseboat at 811 Humboldt street, next to the burnt ark, said she was downtown when the fire broke out and that her toy poodle, Java, was in her home.

At the sound of the alarm, she dashed home to find her place broken into and the eight-pound brown dog missing.

Spectators at the blaze told Mrs. Mapes they saw a young woman wearing black pedal-pushers carry the dog out of the houseboat, but lost her in the crowd.

Mrs. Mapes is appealing for the return of Java.

raise funds for their fight against eviction.

Lawrence Steese, vice president of the association, a spectator at last night's blaze, said that he had the only key to the houseboat and that he had passed the craft only 15 minutes prior to the fire and there was no sign of flames.

Perry said that when firemen arrived, the tiny houseboat was "burning like a torch." The front door was wide open with the screen door braced open by a heavy piece of wood "like you would do to make a good draft," he said.

"This is all crazy," Steese exploded. "This could have been murder."

He referred to another ark immediately adjoining the burned boat normally occupied by Mrs. Marge Mapes, who was not at home last night.

David X. Lee, preservation association president, announced at the scene that the barge will be rebuilt if it is structurally possible to do so, adding "if the geraniums on the porch live through it, we'll do the same."

Perry and Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt today were continuing their investigation of suspicious circumstances surrounding the blaze.

"It just doesn't look right," Perry commented. "We are pressing our investigation with the idea that it was deliberately set."

Turpentine, Pills Send 2 To Hospital

Two toddlers had their stomachs washed out yesterday at Marin General Hospital as a result of consuming materials not meant to be eaten.

Barbara Schroeder, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Schroeder of Woodacre, drank some turpentine. She was sent home in good condition.

Also sent home in good condition was Daniel Brooks, 22 months, who was brought to the hospital by his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks of Larkspur, after the youngster ate an indefinite number of a variety of pills.

OBITUARIES

Harry Hock Succumbs In Sleep

Harry B. Hock, long-time resident of San Rafael, died in his sleep last night.

Until major surgery two years ago, he had been active in several local lodges, and in the First Presbyterian Church. He was born in San Francisco 85 years ago. He lived at 24 Ross street.

Hock was one of the first mail carriers in San Rafael, and retired from government service in 1940. He was a member of the Retired Federal Civil Service Employees Assn., and the National Assn. of Letter Carriers.

Hock was a volunteer fireman and was awarded a gold pin from the San Rafael Fire Department honoring him for 55 years service.

He was also a member of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons; Marin Chapter 102, Royal Arch Masons; California Council 2, Royal and Select Masters; Mt. Tamalpais Parlor 64, Native Sons of the Golden West, and Marin Lodge 200, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

In his early years Hock worked with the pioneer grocery firm of Grosjean and Sons. He was also a local agent for the San Francisco Examiner.

He was the son of the late Tobias and Clara Hock and brother of the late Christine Klammer. He is survived by his wife, Theresa M. Hock, and a brother, Tobias, of San Anselmo.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary. Services will be conducted by Marin Lodge 191, F&AM. Inurnment will be at Mt. Tamalpais Memorial Park.

Stumper Funeral Set For Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Stumper of Mill Valley will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Stumper, 70, died Thursday in her home.

TODAY:

11:55 a.m., Kentfield — False alarm on Via La Cueste, Greenbrae.

Man Dies While Working On Pier

Adrian John Romaggi, 54, died today of an apparent heart attack while working on a pier near his home, 45 Marine drive, Bayside Acres, the Marin County Coroner's Office reported.

Romazzi, a candy and tobacco wholesaler in San Francisco, was working near the beach and called to his house saying that he did not feel well. As he walked toward a car that was sent to pick him up he fell and died a few minutes later, the coroner's office said. The apparent seizure happened at about 10 a.m.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills mortuary, San Anselmo.

Marin Newcomer Succumbs In S. F.

Florence Margarita Clark, wife of Henry T. Clark, died in San Francisco Thursday at the age of 47. The Clarks had moved from San Francisco to 286 Redwood road in San Anselmo only five days ago.

Mrs. Clark worked for the Call-Bulletin and was a member of the American Newspaper Guild.

Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at St. Ignatius Church in San Francisco, at 9 a.m. The funeral cortege will form at the Gantner, Felder, Kenny Chapel, 1965 Market street. The Rosary will be recited tomorrow.

BAY AREA AIR POLLUTION CONTROL DISTRICT
1480 Mission Street
San Francisco 3, California
KLondike 2-1300

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE BAY AREA AIR POLLUTION CONTROL DISTRICT

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Directors of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District will conduct a Public Hearing pursuant to Health and Safety Code, Section 24362.2. The purpose of the Public Hearing is to receive additional information on the subject of a proposed regulation to control the release of air contaminants.

Among the sources which would be affected are such operations as incinerators (except at one- and two-family residences), material handling operations, metallurgical and mineral processing plants, metal salvage operations, fuel burning equipment, chemical and petroleum processing operations, cement and aggregate processing, and food processing operations. Information on the said subjects has heretofore been presented at Public Hearings on the 8th of October, 1958 and the 21st of January, 1959.

The said Hearing will be held at 10:00 A.M. on Wednesday, June 17, 1959, in the main auditorium of the University of San Francisco, Fulton Street at Cole, in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California. It is proposed that such hearing commence on the 17th of June, 1959, and be continued from day to day on the 1, 2 and 3 of July or such part of any of such days as may be necessary to give all persons interested an opportunity to be heard on the subject of the proposed Regulation.

This hearing will consider a second Regulation of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, regulating the emission of air contaminants from any process or operation capable of producing air contaminants which are or may be subsequently emitted to the atmosphere. The proposed Regulation limits the quantity of the emission of particulate matter in terms of a proportion of weight of particulate matter emission to the volume of exhaust gases and to the weight of process materials. The proposed Regulation regulates the amount and time of emission during which emissions into the atmosphere may attain certain standards of visibility. The proposed Regulation limits the amount and kind of gases which may be emitted from certain operations into the atmosphere. The proposed Regulation contains certain requirements as to the provision of sampling facilities, requires the registration of sources of emission with the Air Pollution Control Officer, with certain exceptions, and has certain general provisions, definitions, exceptions and standards.

Copies of the proposed Regulation and further information concerning the same are available at the offices of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, 1480 Mission Street, San Francisco 3, California.

At the said hearing, on the 17th of June, 1959, or on other dates to which the hearing may be continued, all persons are invited to appear and make any petition, presentation or protest concerning the said subject matter. The hearing may be recessed or continued from time to time as may be needed to give all persons an opportunity to appear before the Board of Directors on the subject of the hearing. The hearing may be adjourned from day to day as may be necessary and may be adjourned at any meeting of the Board to some other place of hearing as may be more convenient to the Board and the public interested.

DATED: June 4, 1959.
PATRICK J. MORAN
Executive Secretary
Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

McConnell Renamed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday reappointed F. Britton McConnell as state insurance commissioner.

Benefit Bill Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill raising unemployment insurance benefits headed for the Senate today with 55-14 Assembly approval.

The measure raises the top weekly rate from $40 to $55, or $10 less than Assemblyman William A. Munnell (D-Montebello) originally sought. But it now includes more workers that would benefit.

New Scout Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ellsworth H. Augustus, Cleveland banker and industrialist, was installed as the president of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America today.

Augustus, 61, succeeds Kenneth K. Bechtel of Ross, who had held the post since 1956.

The council's 49th annual meeting ended after the installation ceremonies.

Paratrooper Killed

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—One paratrooper was killed in a mass jump during the concluding exercise of Air Force-Army maneuvers at this Army base yesterday. Another's rigging caught on a plane for a time but a safety crew managed to free the 'chute and he landed safely.

Park Bill Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to strip the state Park Commission of its administrative powers returned to the Assembly today with Senate approval.

The Assembly will act on minor Senate changes in the bill by Assemblyman Pauline Davis (D-Portola). The upper house passed the measure, 33-3, after rejecting amendments that would have let the commission continue to select park sites.

Convicts Captured

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Two "rookie" inmates of Utah State Prison who vowed they would never be taken alive were captured here early this morning, less than 24 hours after they climbed, cut and dug their way out of the prison's maximum security barriers.

The convicts, Jimmie Clark, 27, Los Angeles, and Dennis Mattinson, Payson, Utah, were captured by city police after a tip from a cab driver.

Rooneys Expecting

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mickey Rooney and the blonde starlet he said he secretly married in Mexico are expecting a baby in October.

"I'm so happy I could bust!" the actor said by telephone yesterday from Las Vegas, where he is appearing.

Sanitary Hearing Set

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana will undergo a sanity hearing June 16 unless he submits voluntarily to continued treatment at John Sealy Hospital and psychiatric clinic.

Long, 63, normally hot-tempered and full of blistering comments, listened silently when he heard that Probate Court Judge Hugh Gibson had ordered the hearing in "the best interests of Earl K. Long as a mentally ill person."

Trial Delayed Because Of Wife's Illness

The jury trial of Marin City contractor Vertis D. Spigner, accused of making lewd proposals to a San Francisco housewife, was postponed yesterday because the woman was reported ill at home.

Twelve members of the jury had been picked, and the case was ready to begin about 11 a.m. when Richard M. Kessler, one of the complaining witnesses, announced his wife, Margaret Edith, 24, could not attend because of illness.

Spigner's attorney, Tom Berkley of Berkeley, moved for a dismissal of the case, but Judge William Locarnini of Napa, sitting in Marin Municipal Court, denied the motion. The case was continued until 1:30, June 23, for re-setting of trial.

Prosecutor Roger P. Garety said he would investigate how ill Mrs. Kessler is, and then determine what action to take.

Last April, the Kesslers said they had a flat tire near Richardson Bay Bridge and went to the Bay Auto Wreckers for repairs. Mrs. Kessler complained that while they were there, Spigner came up to her and made lewd proposals. Spigner has denied the accusation.

Car, Bike Collide; Boy Slightly Hurt

A 10-year-old Novato boy suffered only minor bruises at 5:25 p.m. Thursday when his bicycle was involved in a collision with a car on Lamont avenue, about 100 feet west of Franklin avenue, Novato.

Eric Wineland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Wineland of 820 Reichert avenue, Novato, was delivering newspapers when the accident occurred.

Driver of the car was A/1c Patrick Joseph O'Shea, 23, of the 78th Supply Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base.

Trustees To Study Recreation Matter

The application of the Strawberry Recreation District for use of the Strawberry Point School for its summer recreation program is scheduled to be considered again by Mill Valley School District trustees at their meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the district office.

Trustees are also scheduled to open bids for the paving of the Park School play yard.

Integrate Schools, Atlanta Ordered

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta school officials have been ordered to stop operating segregated public schools and to present a plan for integration within a reasonable time.

The U.S. District Court ruling yesterday said segregated schools are illegal but it did not set a specific date for the end of segregation in Georgia's largest school system.

Judge Frank A. Hooper indicated that any final order would not mean integration next September in Atlanta, seat of the government of one of the very few states without integration at any public educational level.

The decision brought a step nearer the showdown on whether Atlanta's schools will be integrated or closed. Under state law any school ordered integrated would automatically lose state funds and could be shut down by the governor.

CHILDREN HAPPY

Hayden Reported Off For Australia Now

OAKLAND (UPI) — Actor-adventurer Sterling Hayden, who defied a court order to take his four children in the schooner Wanderer from Sausalito to the South Seas, is now headed for Australia, according to a former crew member.

Dennis Powers, 21, a junior at Occidental College, told of Hayden's plans upon his arrival at Oakland International Air port yesterday after leaving the Wanderer in Tahiti.

"The children are very happy, but sometimes they ask about their mother," Powers said.

From Australia Hayden tentatively plans to sail through the Suez Canal to the Mediterranean Sea, Powers said.

He's been writing magazine and newspaper articles and might also detour to Japan to make a movie, Powers added.

Hayden left Sausalito in the 98-foot Wanderer on Jan. 18 and arrived at his first stop, the Marquesa Islands, 24 days later.

His divorced wife, Betty De Noon Hayden, had previously obtained a court order to prevent him from taking their children out of the country. Ten days later Marin County Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich drew up a complaint charging Hayden and crew members with child stealing.

Mystery Plane's Crew Identified

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Sahara Desert has cast up a mystery as deep and baffling as any recorded in the annals of the seas.

A World War II B24 bomber which had a crew of nine has been found in the waterless waste of Libya, 380 miles south of Bengazi. It was last seen 16 years ago when it took off from a Libyan base for a bombing raid on Naples, Italy.

Demo Tactics On Tax Bill Anger GOP

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Republican assemblyman declared today that members of his party were so angry about a Democratic "trick" that they would vote against all of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax bills in the lower house.

Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) said all but one or two of the 33-member minority delegation were now on record against the tax plans.

The maneuver which angered Republicans had the effect of reviving Brown's $28,500,000 tax on oil and gas products which had been bottled up in a committee.

With most of the 80 members of the house still out to lunch, Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland) made an apparently routine move to withdraw a bill from one committee and send it to another. He identified the bill by number.

Before Republicans realized what had happened, the house had granted "unanimous consent" to transfer the oil tax measure from the Revenue and Taxation Committee, which had pigeonholed it, to the more friendly Ways and Means Committee.

Assemblyman Charles Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) later moved that the motion be reconsidered. That measure may —but probably won't—be considered today.

VANDALS CUT PAINTINGS AT DE YOUNG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eight paintings, including one by Flemish master Peter Paul Rubens, were damaged by vandals a few minutes before the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum closed yesterday.

The Rubens, a religious scene, was deeply scratched. The seven others, by Flemish, French and Dutch artists, were deeply scratched with jagged crosses. All the marks were on faces.

Beach Rites Mark D-Day Anniversary

OMAHA BEACH, France (UPI) —American and French military leaders gathered at this wind-swept beach today to pay tribute to the men who died making it the first foothold of freedom in France during World War II.

Fifteen years ago was D-Day, the start of the great allied assault on Hitler's Atlantic wall.

Before the beachhead was secured, more than 10,000 Americans, Britains and Canadians were killed or wounded.

The only signs of that bitter battle now are the crumbling fortifications of Hitler's Festung Europa, half-hidden by sand drifts and the 9,836 white crosses that mark the St. Laurent U.S. military cemetery.

Molest Suspect Linked To Other Cases Here

A San Francisco fruit vendor, who acted as "good samaritan" to youngsters, may have molested many girls in Marin County in addition to the two in Marinwood named in a charge against him, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said today.

John Garvin Hicks, 62, an ex-convict sent to San Quentin Prison for similar offenses in Los Angeles, was in Marin County Jail today in lieu of $5,000 bail. He will appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday afternoon.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges said he has information that two girls in Raphael Village were similarly molested in Hicks' grocery bus last month. All victims are about 10 or 11 years old. Thus far, molesting of four girls has been confirmed.

Hicks was first convicted in Los Angeles in 1942 for child molesting and drew five years probation. In 1945, he gave three girls money for pony rides, then attacked one of them. For this, he served seven years in San Quentin.

Hicks took over John's Produce truck from the original owner last February and has been peddling in Terra Linda, Marinwood, Loma Verde, Raphael Village, Lynwood and Hamilton Field areas. The original owner of John's Produce is not involved in any way Bridges emphasized.

No Matter What Your Income, You Still Get Only 24 Hours

Budgeting finances is bad enough, but how are you at budgeting the measly 24 hours we're allowed in our daily spin around the polar axis?

Space scientists should look into slowing down this rotation business so we could squeeze an extra hour or two between sunup and sundown, and maybe that would help capital and labor solve the problem of a shorter working day, too.

It doesn't make any difference whether your income is $5,000 or 10 times that. Everyone gets the same rationing of 24 hours a day and it simply isn't enough for what your wife thinks ought to be done in that amount of time.

I have a friend who was put on a strict time seedule by his very efficient spouse. They both have jobs so she included herself in the algorithm.* Did it work? In a pig's eye!

The first week he fell behind 10½ hours and she came out almost as bad with a deficiency of eight, in spite of all her pre-planning. Now she knows better.

TAKE AN AVERAGE workingman's day . . . He puts in eight—maybe nine hours between starting and stopping. Say another 1½—2 hours going and coming. Add a like amount for shaving, breakfast, reading the paper, and dinner. So half the day is gone right there, and that's conservative.

Maybe you're an eight hour sleeper—if you're a six hour man you doze two hours watching TV so it's all the same. If you have kids, figure at least one or two hours a day keeping them in line, bawling them out, waiting for them to get out of the bathroom, helping with their homework, and explaining over the telephone to the guy down the street it must have been someone else who broke his window, or it was his own kid who started the fight.

ADD ONE HOUR for arguing with your wife or making excuses for something you didn't do, did do, don't believe in, don't want, can't afford and wiping the dishes. (Oh, you don't, eh? You and I must get together. I'd like to learn your system).

Say 45 minutes for miscellaneous chores—making out sales reports, balancing your wife's checkbook, reading the mail, filing unpaid bills in the wastebasket, watering the lawn, checking the car, brush-

THIS BUSINESS BUILT FROM THE TOP DOWN

Most businesses build from the ground up, but Aero Portraits has reversed the procedure with signal success. What began five years ago as a part-time business by NBC staffers Jack Van Wort and Ed Brady has grown to support three employees, Michael Bry, Burt Levenhagen and Jim Rusch. Aero Portraits occupies 2,600 square feet of floor space in the Industrial Center Building (nee Mold Loft) in Sausalito's Marinship. The firm and its Sebastopol adjunct, Aerial Mapping, keep two airplanes busy, while shutters click anywhere from underwater up.

The firm is somewhat renowned for its photo murals and has branched into color reproduction work, publicity and advertising illustration. The photo map survey does contract work for government agencies as well as private contractors.

AGGRESSIVE BUREAUCRAT—George A. Marshall Sr. followed up his stint in the Spanish-American War with 42 years in the U. S. Customs Service, where he proved himself anything but a rubber stamp. (Independent-Journal Photos)

JOB IS CHANGED—But the lively secretary-manager of Novato's Chamber of Commerce carries on with the same enthusiasm and energy. One of his annual civic activities is growing an entry for the "full white beard" category of the Novato Western Weekend contest. He always wins.

At 78, He Still Looks Ahead

Full Career With Customs Service Wasn't Enough For George, A. Marshall Sr.

By ROSS ASHLEY

Some four years ago, directors of the Novato Chamber of Commerce hired George A. Marshall Sr. as the chamber's secretary-manager.

Marshall, then 74, had been retired from the U. S. Customs Service for a decade, and it is possible that some among the employing chamber directors thought they were hiring a "play it safe" type bureaucrat.

If they did, they have long since had occasion to think again.

Marshall, now into his fifth year as the chamber's full-time manager, has boosted the chamber's paid-up membership from 41 to 167, and its annual budget from $3,500 to $8,750, and has made the organization a vital force in North Marin.

IN THE ABSENCE of a local city government in Novato, the chamber, under Marshall's leadership, is in many ways the central clearing house for local affairs.

Asking Marshall to outline the accomplishments of the chamber since he took over gets you nowhere. His concern, at age 78, is entirely with the future, and he is impatient with talk of the past.

In spite of this, we will have to take a look at his past to get this profile into focus.

George Marshall was born in Mariposa County, March 12, 1881. His grandfather was a cousin of James W. Marshall whose discovery of gold at Sutter's Mill started California's gold rush.

HIS FATHER was a mining engineer, and the family moved about California in the pusuit of gold, finally settling in Tuolumne County long enough for young George to finish elementary school.

In 1898 came the news of the sinking of the battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, and Marshall left home to join the Navy.

He had, he says, a "yen" for a naval career, but this blew up like the Maine when he was wounded in Cuba during the Spanish-American War and "surveyed" out of the Navy by a medical board to Mare Island hospital.

HE HEARD ABOUT a civil service examination for employment in the Customs Service, took a business course in San Francisco to prepare for the examination, passed and was eventually employed in January, 1903, as a messenger in the office of the San Francisco customs collector.

Salary: $840 per year.

The Customs Service, like the Novato Chamber of Commerce many years later, may have been unaware of the dynamo characteristics of its new employee, but it soon found out.

Through a series of routine clerkships, Marshall uncovered procedural flaws in the customs system which were allowing substantial amounts of revenue to slip away from Uncle Sam, and was instrumental in tightening up the procedures—also in lowering the boom on various customs employees and shippers who were profiting from the flaws in the system.

THE SAN FRANCISCO earthquake and fire of 1906 resulted in double duty for Marshall who was ordered to guard duty with his Nationai Guard unit and still expected to stay on the job at customs as merchandise unloaded on the docks just prior to the quake had to be processed and removed.

Somewhere along the line, Marshall's energies had attracted the attention of higher-ups in the service, and in 1907 he was appointed Acting Deputy Naval Officer of Customs in San Francisco at the personal request of the head of that office.

Some years later he moved up to the top civil-service post in the customs district—assistant collector of customs—and for some months in 1939-40 held the top job as collector after the death of the incumbent. He thus moved from the lowest to the highest job in the district service during his 42 years' service.

THE YEARS BETWEEN were full of lively jousting with white slavers and dope importers, all of whom came to have a hearty respect for the diminutive George Marshall as he was instrumental in routing many of their number to jail and prison.

He is engaged now, in his spare time, whenever that is, in writing an autobiography full of accounts of his four-decade war on smugglers.

We have read a draft of this manuscript and can't begin to outline it all here. Two incidents will have to cover the ground.

Th first will sound familiar to anybody who knows George Marshall. He was sent on a mission to the Honolulu customs office to aid in tightening up the procedures of that office, and spent some weeks in the Hawaiian Islands.

SHORTLY AFTER his return, his superior went to Honolulu on an inspection trip. When the latter returned, he sent for Marshall and observed: "I followed your footsteps throughout the islands and found that every man, woman and child over there calls you 'George.'"

The second incident may probably be described as the highlight of Marshall's career, and as one the greatest civilian contributions to the U.S. war effort in the Pacific during World War II.

The trouble is, that is the only way it can be described. The Navy, which was involved in the matter, has firmly stamped "Top Secret" on the file.

This much can be said about it: it involved putting together two and two (items of more or less unrelated information which Marshall had picked up in his years in the customs), adding them up to a surprising total, and taking decisive action over the protests of more bureaucratic-minded supervisors.

THE RESULT WAS a wallop that jarred the Japanese war effort just about as hard as any other single thing that occurred in the Pacific war.

Retirement, which came to George Marshall in 1944, was to him merely an opportunity to spread his energies around a bit wider.

He became state adjutant of the United Spanish War Veterans, with offices in San Francisco, and devoted himself to his duties as a director of the state veterans' home near Yountville, a post he held for more than 20 years, 14 of them as chairman of the board.

In 1954 he moved to Novato, built a house by himself, and moved actively into the life of the community and its chamber of commerce.

Marshal! was married in 1905 to Miss Irene Stowell of San Francisco. The Marshalls now live at 853 Tamalpais avenue in Novato. They have one son, George A. Marshall Jr.

ONE FINAL WORD: not the least of Marshall's talents lies in the field of beard-growing. He is the perennial winner in the "full white beard" category of the Novato Western Weekend whisker-ino, and, with the 1959 Western Weekend upcoming shortly, is sporting his annual bumper crop of chin shrubbery.

If you want to find out anything in North Marin, drop by the Novato Chamber of Commerce office and talk with George Marshall. You will find him loaded with information about Novato life and growth, and with a boy's enthusiasm for what's coming next, be it incorporation of Novato, development of new home or business areas, freeways or whatever.

IF YOU DON'T find him at the office, just stand on the sidewalk a few minutes. He'll come along, walking briskly on his daily round of the Novato business district, pausing of course to say "hello" to every man, woman and child along the way.

Like the Hawaiians, they all call him "George."

STEREO HI-FI

By C. J. Catania
Audio Engineer

Are you a Do-It-Yourself type? If so, let me suggest a project that will give the entire family years of excellent enjoyment and pride for the builder. STEREO in kit form can be fun, but most important is that by purchasing the proper kits, you can have a spectacular music system. If you are misguided and purchase poorly designed kits, you will have a dull, distorted system.

There are two basic types of kits; the cheaply designed kit using inexpensive grade parts, and the expertly designed kit using the highest quality components. Naturally, we recommend, sell, and service only the quality kits.

We have just received our first shipment of the DYNAKIT STEREO AMPLIFIER KITS. It is the newest of the well-known Dyna amplifier kits. The new Dynakit Model 70 is a stereo power amplifier consisting of two 35-watt amplifiers on one chassis.

The Stereo 70 is an amplifier of unequalled performance, and its listening quality is also unrivalled by any, regardless of price. It uses a patented circuit of outstanding performance characteristics, and offers the highest possible fidelity at lowest cost. Even sharp percussive signals like drum beats or piano notes will be reproduced with sharpness and clarity, without overhang or muddy quality.

The dual stereo amplifier kit costs $104.95, which is less than the cost of only one of most comparitive high-quality amplifiers. When you purchase one of these kits from us, we ask you to bring the unit back to us after it is completed. We check the wiring, and make complete laboratory checks and adjustments on the amplifier to insure that you will have a quality unit operating at its best. No charge is made for the above engineering service.

Drop into our Hi-Fi store and let us demonstrate the excellent kits we have available for your stereo or monaural system. You will find the matching Dyna Preamp at $36.70. This preamp, by the way, has practically no measurable hum and distortion; you will also find the Gray and Rek-O-Kut studio type record players in kit form; you will find the Audax arm in kit form; and, of course, you will find a wide selection of loudspeakers and cabinets to complete your stereo Hi-Fi music system.

You pay no more when you buy from a reputable, experienced firm like ours, but you gain the valuable advantages of our engineering department and services.

Triumph Of The 'Third Rail'

As Standard Gauge Track Takes Over The Narrow Gauge Pines, Then Dies

(Editor's note: This is the last in the series by A. Bray Dickinson, Tomales historian, on the early-day railroads in Marin — notably the narrow gauge. Last week's episode dealt with the absorption of the declining North Shore by two giants, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe. Subsequently, the renamed Northwestern Pacific became Southern Pacific's sole responsibility.

By A. BRAY DICKINSON

After the merger, the narrow guage completely lost its individuality and became an unimportant segment of the NWP system. Little by little, sections were snipped away from the road until practically nothing remained.

The company encountered considerable difficulty in constructing a new cut-off between Greenbrae and a place called Baltimore Park, on the former North Shore line. Construction crews dumped carload after carload of rock on the marsh between the two points, only to have it sink out of sight. Wooden piling had to be driven to reinforce the new roadbed. Electric express trains running between San Rafael and Sausalito via Greenbrae cut 10 to 15 minutes from the scheduled time of local trains traveling by way of San Anselmo.

Also, the third-rail electric track was extended from Fairfax to Manor during 1908.

The following year Sausalito became the passenger terminal for all NWP trains. Tiburon retaining its status, but as a freight terminal exclusively.

SOON THE TWO ferry lines were merged and those traveling between Tiburon and Belvedere and San Francisco had to change at the Sausalito ferry at Sausalito to a passenger boat called the "Requa" a small steamer purchased by the NWP for this service.

San Anselmo was made the transfer point for freight shipments for the narrow-gauge line.

In addition to locomotives brought over from the North Shore Company, the NWP received four narrow-gauge engines that originally belonged to the South Pacific Coast Railroad; three American type eight-wheelers weighing 22 to 23 tons, and one 4-6-0, or ten-wheeler, of about 37 tons.

The color of narrow gauge passenger cars and electric coaches was changed from North Shore red to a very dark olive green which appeared almost black.

In summertime this road did an enormous passenger business and, in marked contrast to North Shore days, it became singularly free from accidents.

While the company encouraged old and reliable men to return, there still remained a few of the reckless crowd of boomers that as yet had not been weeded out.

ONE SATURDAY evening, only fools' luck prevented a catastrophe. A few minutes before the regular passenger train was due in Tomales, a runaway horse got on the right of way and galloped out on a trestle, just below the depot, where it fell across the track and its legs got caught and tangled up among the cross ties.

As the train swept around a broad curve toward the trestle, no one saw what was ahead ,the engineer and fireman were talking back and forth, without paying any attention to the track. Conductor and brakeman loafed on a seat in the rear car.

Some passenger pulled the bell cord but too late. Fortunately the engine's cowcatcher struck the animal just right and it was pitched clear of the high bridge. Everybody was scared but one person, at least, must of had his rabbit's foot along, for the locomotive remained on the rails but the entire train crew was fired for this bit of carelessness.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT, which had its element of luck, occurred along Tomales Bay near Marshalls one Sunday morning, Dec. 1, 1907. The Cazardero passenger train was traveling at a good clip down the bay shore, flanges screeching loudly against rails as the cars lurched around sharp curves. As Conductor Bello sauntered through one of the coaches, "big as Cuffy," some nervous woman asked him if the train wasn't going a bit too fast for safety.

"Oh no," replied Bello in a voice that matched his name. "We're just making up a little lost time, lady."

Hardly had these words been uttered, when Bang! Crash! The entire train and locomotive rolled over into the tide water. By some miracle of fate no one was even slightly hurt, but another boomer engineer was told to move on.

During the World War, 1914-1918, the narrow gauge did considerable hauling of lumber and probably enjoyed the best passenger business in its history during the 1915 Fair in San Francisco.

However, automobiles began to crowd the country wagon roads, gasoline-driven trucks delivered stuff to the farmer's door and returned to market with his produce. Paved highways were further extended to make possible the utilization of trucks for long haul freight transportation, especially of perishable goods.

ALL THIS MEANT a loss to railroads.

The narrow gauge branch reduced its daily freight service to only three days a week, and it became the usual thing for regular passenger trains to handle the dwindling Sunday crowds.

Probably for measures of economy, the NWP extended its Guerneville branch down the Russian River to Monte Rio and thence spiked a rail on the narrow gauge track to Duncan Mills so the broad gauge trains could use the joint track.

Thus trains running via Santa Rosa could deliver vacationers and picnic crowds all along the river from Guerneville to Duncan's.

NWP AGAIN extended its standard gauge track from Manor to Point Reyes Station. An engine house was erected at this latter place and it became the southern terminal for the narrow gauge trains. The last of this class of passenger trains pulled out of Sausalito on April 5, 1920. The head of the narrow gauge road was severed from its body during 1926, when the track between Duncan's Mills and Cazadero was broad-gauged. This village saw its last narrow gauge train September 9th. Only a combination train now ran on the three-foot track between Point Reyes Station and Duncan's doing practically no passenger and very little freight business.

During the decade of the 1920's when gasoline vehicles and paved highways revolutionized land transportation with startling rapidity, executives as well as railroad workers of all classes appeared too bewildered for any constructive action.

Employes vigorously opposed any chang in the old order of things, fearing loss of their jobs, and their brotherhoods imposed restrictions on their member's services, making progress impossible in many cases. Whenever management received suggestions for improvement in equipment and rolling stock, there was always the excuse of "lack of funds."

As a result of this hidebound conservatism, plus inertia, there came about a steady deterioration in service which caused a further veering away from public utilization of railroads and increased demand for more and better highways.

Trains were larger and heavier, but passengers still sweltered in summer heat and choked on dust or tunnel smoke while they ambled along at speeds similar to those in vogue a half century before. The Diesel engine, light metals, roller bearings, and air-conditioning were yet to be forced upon reluctant railroads as a final "kill or cure" treatment.

In this crisis a man by the name of Palmer became president of NWP, and his company adopted a policy of obstruction and retrenchment.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS who wished to cross the bay were greatly hindered. Passenger ferries continued to operate at infrequent intervals, while only a few cars were allowed on each boat. On Sundays and holidays and weekends, two lines of motor cars used to form before the Sausalito ferry landing, to extend along the old winding highway and up over the crest of Corte Madera ridge. Those that missed the last boat waited until morning to get home.

After a rival ferry line started up, NWP belatedly constructed three very fine, all steel, propeller-driven automobile carriers, but the public did not forget. These boats ran nearly empty as a forlorn

Pantages To Broadway

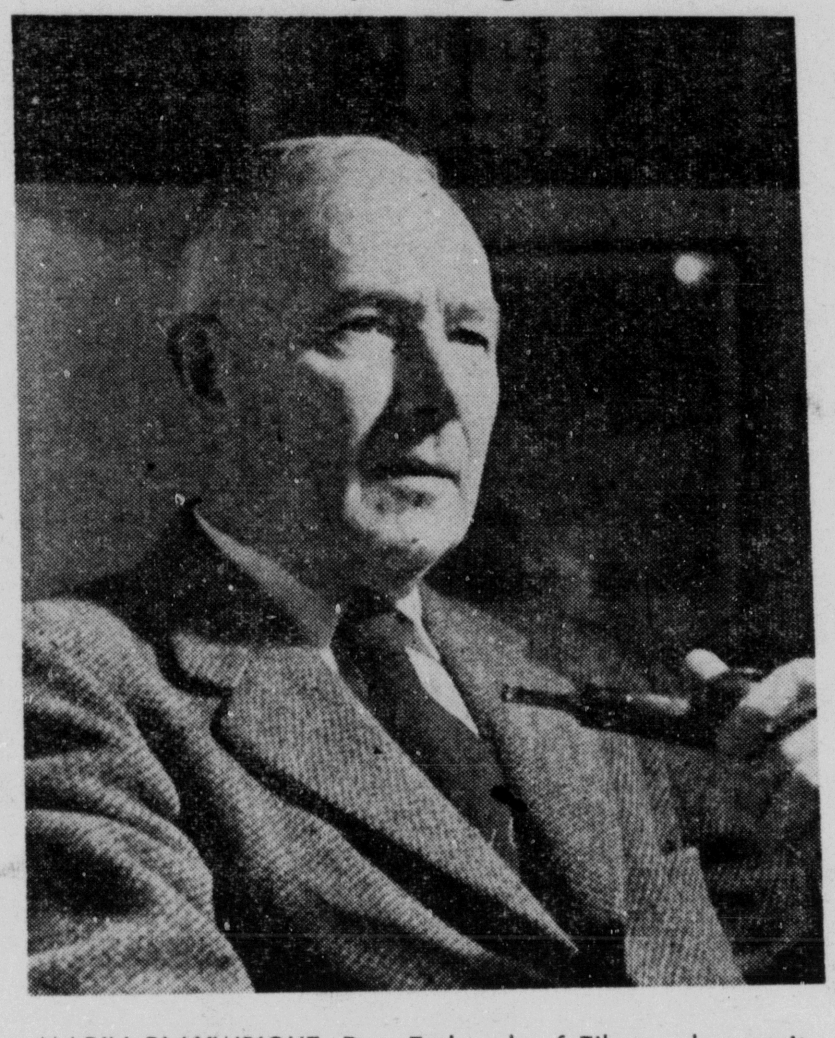
Veteran Author-Playwrite Dan Totheroh Was Acting Professionally At Age 10

By DEE-DEE ABRAMSON

When the curtain goes up at the Tiburon Playhouse on the Thursday evening, June 11, performance of the Cove Players production of "A Ghost Of A Chance" it will be the "world premiere" of the comedy-phantasy written and directed by the veteran playwright Dan Totheroh.

Totheroh, who has directed the Tiburon Peninsula little theatre group since its inception almost five years ago, has been intimately connected with the theater all over the world since he first saw the glow of the footlights in the golden San Francisco days just before the earthquake of 1906.

When the case of an American who inherited an ancient English castle was first publicized several years ago in the newspapers, Totheroh couldn't resist the inherent plot possibilities and promptly wrote the phantasy of "hex and sex" which the Cove Players selected as their final production of the 1958-1959 season.



MARIN PLAYWRIGHT—Dan Totheroh of Tiburon has written for Broadway, Hollywood, the Mountain Play. His latest, "Ghost of a Chance" will have its world premiere Thursday at the Tiburon Playhouse.

AT THE AGE of 10, young Dan, a native San Franciscan, was acting professionally with the famous Nance O'Niell in stock at San Francisco's Alcazar Theatre. He graduated from the juvenile role of her son to young romantic lead parts while still in his teens.

During his years in San Francisco stock he worked with such players as Bert Lytell, Evelyn Vaughn, Charles Ruggles, Bessie Barriscale and others.

It was in those days he began the collection of theatrical literature and mementoes which include autographed portraits of such greats as Sarah Bernhardt, Elenora Duse and David Belasco.

In order to have his first starring role, Dan wrote a one-act play, "Pearls," and played the lead. He toured with this on the Pantages Vaudeville circuit for several seasons. Today he is often surprised when he attends high school and college drama presentations and sits through yet another presentation of "Pearls."

During his vaudeville days he toured on the same bill with Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, Gertrude Hoffman, innumerable trained seals and various followers of Little Egypt. Miss St. Denis requested that he write several acts for her which would be in strong contrast to the usual act, and for many years presented Totheroh's dance dramas to the public.

IN 1917 Totheroh joined the American forces and entered active front line duty. He was in the trenches at the time of the Armistice and remained with American troops in Europe until late 1919 when he returned to the Bay Area.

In 1920 he took up studies at the University of California and worked extensively with the Greek Theatre players. Here he first played Shakespeare with Margaret Anglin. His co-workers during these years were Mary Morris, Moris Ankrum, Irving Pichel, Sam Hume, Lloyd Corrigan and Michael Rafetto.

During these years Dan also worked with the Mountain Play Assn. and wrote the theme play, "Tamalpa." Another play of his, "Wild Birds," made theatrical history when civic authorities attempted to censor and close it. Subsequently, "Wild Birds" was invited to Broadway and became one of the hits of the season. It was adjudged a prize play of the year by Eugene O'Neill, George Jean Nathan and Susan Glaspell and was the first play to be reviewed in the first issue of the New Yorker.

FOR THE NEXT years Totheroh divided his time between his homes in New York and the Bay Area. In San Francisco he worked with Garnet Holme on the Mountain Plays. In New York Totheroh had six Broadway successes, "Live Life Again," "Wild Birds," "Distant Drums," "Moor Born," "Mother Lode," "Searching for the Sun."

He wrote steadily and published several novels and many plays and stories for children. In New York Totheroh met and married Kay Morrison a well known dress designer, until her death some years ago.

After a number of his plays had been filmed, Totheroh was invited to Hollywood and lived there for several years.

One of the nation's top script writers, he has an impressive list of credits, among them "Devil and Daniel Webster," and "Yellow Jacket."

Following two years in Europe, Totheroh returned to the United States and commuted again between New York and California, directing, writing and producing on his own. He was active in founding the Ramona Pageant, the Pilgrimage play, and other Southern California festivals.

Because of his touring of the state, Totheroh established headquarters in Carmel and in his free time began intensive study of California history in which he had always been interested. In demand in the Monterey area as a director, he founded the Wharf Theatre, still one of the attractions of Monterey.

About five years ago Totheroh retired from active script writing to concentrate on the technique of the short novel, a form he much admires. Along with writing in this new field, he is still producing new play scripts, primarily for children and for little theatre. His most recent children's work is "Master Will," the Elizabethan section of a cycle of plays written to teach children the historical growth and techniques of the drama.

Totheroh's current activities in the Bay Area are well known. The project closest to his heart is of course the Cove Players—but, meanwhile, he continues to "write, and write, and write."

Formula For Beans

Vegetable gardeners with limited space and a penchant for string beans can combine the two by planting pole varieties instead of bush beans. Figure on about one pole per person to be fed and about three plants to the pole. Start another planting of them in about a month to extend the season and a third in July to extend it even more. As with most vegetables, full sun is the cardinal rule for success.

The Wren: A Prolific Songster With An Appetite For Bad Bugs

One of our most prolific song birds is the wren. Several species and a great many subspecies inhabit the coast region and can present definite problems of identification although all can be easily identified by the beginner as wrens.

A typical wren of the area is the Bewick's wren; 5 to 5½ inch bird that is brown above and grayish white below with a white line over the eye and small whitish spots on the edge and corners of the tail feathers. Even in silhouette where colors cannot be distinguished the characteristic shape of the wren is distinctive. Wrens are nervous active birds with a rather plump body, long slender down-curved bill and a long tail that is held at a sharp perky angle to the body and repeatedly twitched.

The food of the wren is composed almost entirely of undesirable insects, particularly the types of small bettles that excavate in the bark of fruit and ornamental trees. Wrens also feed on scale insects, leaf hoppers and a variety of spiders and bugs. The slender pointed bill is admirably suited to the job of probing for small insects in crevices of bark and among the foliage of garden plants.

A common project for many boys is the building of a bird house usually to be designated as a "wren house." Unfortunately birds seldom find man made bird houses to their liking, even the wren often shuns the most carefully built house in preference to such strange nesting sights as old tin cans, the pocket of a discarded coat or, as has been recorded, an old shoe when found in the proper surroundings. In natural areas the nest is ofter built in a cavity of some tree or rock. Six to 10 eggs are laid in the domed nest and usually two broods are produced each year.

Unlike many small birds in which there is a marked difference in the sexes the wrens have the male and female dressed alike and the young birds are even quite similar to the adults. Whether or not you can tell the sexes apart or even tell the type of wren you are watching there is a lot of pleasure in just watching these fussy excitable birds as they go about their work.

CAMPING AT WEST GARRISON—Boy Scouts pitched tents in a historic military campground on Angel Island for annual Camporee. Some of the 500 had tents, but many simply slept in open in bedrolls. The Scouts Have Landed

The Scouts have landed!

If this phrase has a military ring, it is because the logistics of transporting some 500 Boy Scouts and their leaders to an offshore encampment assume battle proportions. In this case, they also involved three branches of the Armed Forces—Army, Navy and Marines.

The big maneuver was the annual Camporee, for which 450 Scouts and their leaders spend a rugged weekend on Angel Island. The project was six months in the planning, complicated by the necessary clearances and requests for aid. The services came through en masse. First, supplies had to be landed by Army barge.

The embarkation was by Navy liberty launch—a feat requiring five trips to the island. Water supplies, scarce on the island, were furnished through the Army's pipeline system, refurbished weekly from the mainland.

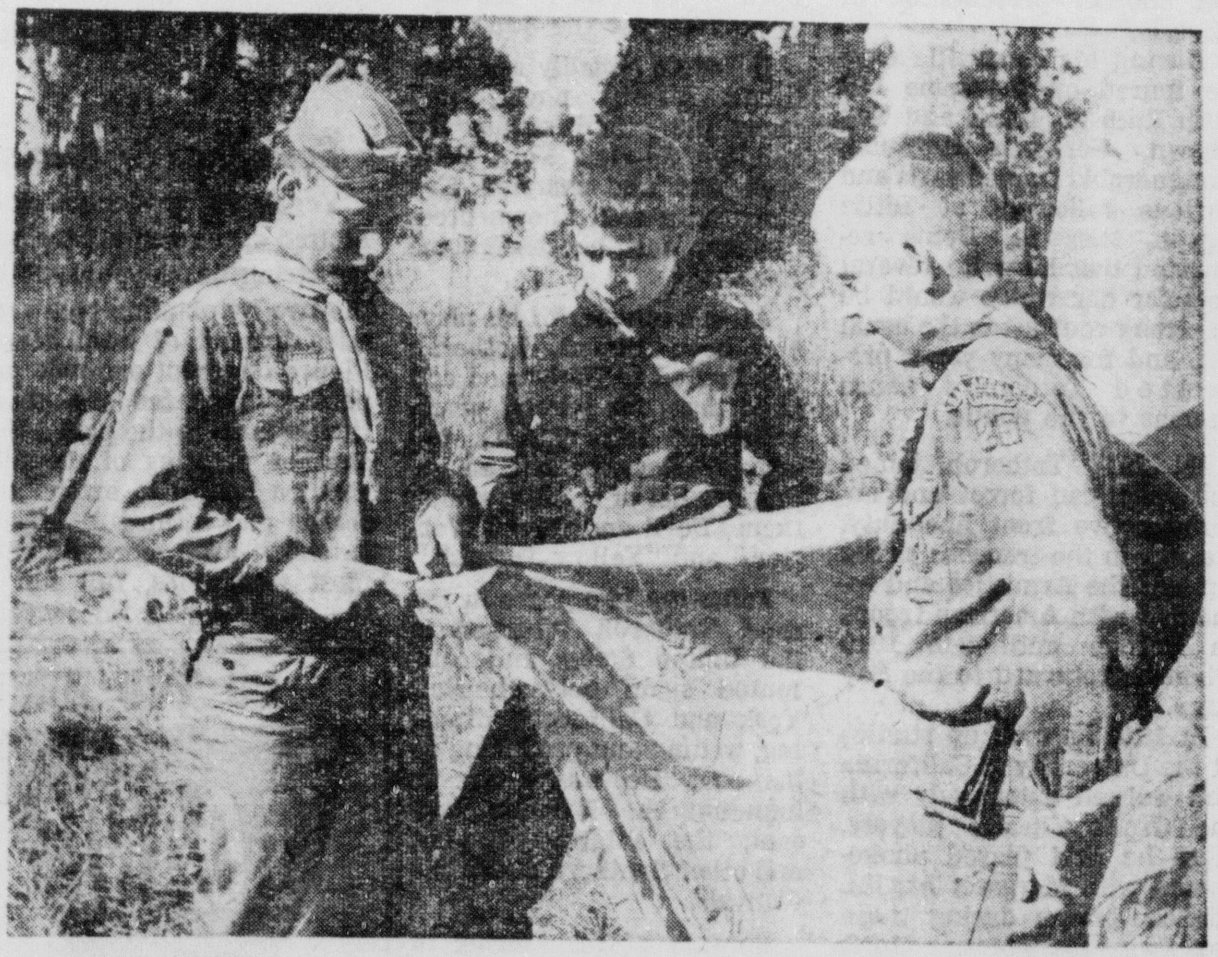
On Sunday, the Marines landed in force with four landing craft, which were thrown open to scout inspection.

The big landing was the highlight of a packed schedule which included visits to the historical points on the island—barracks for pre-1900 immigrants, a rock quarry, gun emplacement of 1889 and the 1913 garrison quarters.

Between all this roaming of the historical military post, the scouts fulfilled badge requirements on a program mapped by the planning committee under watchful eye of their troop leaders.

"By Sunday night, we were all so tired, we could hardly move. It wasn't until two days later that we began to realize what a fine experience it was," recalls Frank Soldavini, member of the planning committee.

Scout executive John Von Wagoner, now in Salt Lake City, worked with a committee headed by Robert Stickney. Others on the committee were Dr. Jay C. Stovall, Joseph Smith Jr. and Soldavini.



TENT CRAFT—Steve Nicol (left) shows Jeff Gneri (center) and Peter Oakander how to shape a tent stake to stay put. All are members of Troop 25, San Anselmo. Busy two-day schedule included plenty of badge requirement work.

MARINES HAVE LANDED—Leathernecks' invasion craft were beached for inspection by Boy Scouts attending Camporee. One LCM and five amphibious vehicles were landed during what served as practice landing for Marines.

SHOELACE DETAIL—Wally Anderson of Troop 25, San Anselmo, stops to repair transportation equipment during 1½ mile hike from landing to camp site. Supplies had been shipped ahead, but each scout carried his own camping gear.

WITCHES' SABBATH

I ran through tall doors of lost faces,
Down streets of names I never learned,
Escaped parades whose torches
Drew black terror
Over contour of curbstone,
While red demand woke hooded throats
With single voice of club and noose:
But what mattered most was
That sheep in their soft saintwhite,
Changed overnight to wolves
With eyes of fiery crosses.

Field Day For Flower Arrangers

Forty-five varied and challenging categories of flower arrangements conceived for the 1959 Marin Art and Garden Fair to be held in Ross, July 1-5, have attracted a record number of exhibitors in this traditionally important division of the show.

The imaginations of professional, amateur, novice and junior flower arrangers may find expression in such titles for example as "Purple Shadows," "Contempory Eve," "Whispering Palms," and "Redwood Highway."

For the 14th annual edition of the fair a new and larger display area for flower arrangements has been created by the show designer, William L. Kapranos, San Anselmo landscape architect.

THE FLOWER BOWER will be located under the trees over the creek near the Octagon house. Earth fill over new culverts in the creek bed has formed the needed additional space on the Art and Garden Center temporary fair grounds.

Exhibitors in all classes are urged by Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager to bring their entries to the grounds as early in the morning as possible on July 1 for the first period and July 4 for the second period. Absolutely no entries will be accepted after 11 a.m. for either day.

Mrs. Esther McDonald of Fairfax, noted Bay Area flower show judge and professional flower arranger, served as volunteer composer of the 45 provocative categories.

FOR PROFESSIONALS, who include lecturers, floral teachers, judges, or anyone who has received remuneration for services in the field of flower arranging, one arrangement includes "Patterns For Paradise," the fair theme. The pros will also be given an opportunity to interpret "Old Glory," a patriotic arrangement.

An amateur, described by the fair management as "one who has won not more than 10 blue ribbons in fairs and one who has not been engaged in flower arranging as a teacher or on any commercial basis" may compete with arrangements expressing "Pink Chiffon," "Hint of Mint," and many others.

Advanced amateurs, who are amateur arrangers who have won more than 10 ribbons in fairs, may enter the professional, but not the amateur class. In their own class they may offer arrangements symbolizing "Black Velvet," "Fragrance of Orange Blossor other interesting themes.

Chamberlands sub-division stretches from lake frontage to rugged wooded area, which will be preserved for all residents' use.

Marinites Throw 'Lot-Looking' Party At Tahoe

The fabulous land boom at Lake Tahoe is being promoted by enterprising realtors in many different ways. Among the most novel was that employed by Mill Valley residents, John and Viola Ziegler, who hosted some 30 friends at a "lot-looking party" recently at Chamberlands.

We knew scads of people who are interested in buying lots at Tahoe," Ziegler said. "The only trouble was, we could never get together. So, Viola came up with the idea for a lot-looking party in which we would wine and dine our friends who were interested and take them on tours of the available lots."

ZIEGLER considers his wife's brain-storm a big success; seven lots were sold over that weekend, three of them to Marin residents.

Lake Tahoe has long been considered Northern California's "vacation land" and older residents mourn the fact that the tremendous influx of population in recent years is continually reducing the amount of lebensraum at their favorite resort area.

Many of the major land holding at Tahoe, such as Chamberlands, are rapidly being subdivided and sold off to people who want to save a little bit of Lake Tahoe for themselves as an investment.

LAND VALUES vary greatly at the lake, ranging all the way from $3850 for a third of an acre at Chamberland's to $200 and $300 per foot for waterfront property, when it is available.

The magic word at the lake is "water-front" property. And it's an expression the average lot-buyer breathes rather wistfully. There is blessed little left and the figures quoted for it can only be handled gracefully by a wealthy few.

Paradoxically, this is the facet of the land boom at Tahoe that warms Ziegler to his pitch.

"When you buy a lot at Chamberlands," he says enthusiastically, "you automatically become eligible for membership in our Beach and Mountain Club which gives you perpetual rights to all the beach facilities at Chamberlodge."

THE UNIQUE feature, Ziegler explains, gives a lot-owner free and unrestricted access to 1,200 acres of wooded hills and meadow, laced with hiking and riding trails. The land, which was used last month for the pre-Olympics, rises from 6,200 to 8,000 feet, altitude, and will be the site for the Olympic cross-country and Biathalon matches in 1960.

Among the Marin residents who attended Ziegler's affair were Postmaster John McSweeny of Mill Valley and his wife, Viola; Mr. and Mrs. Danial D. Mapes, 21 Lomita drive; William E. Simmons, 2 Primrose Path, Mill Valley.

The Chamberlands subdivision of which Ziegler is president, formerly was a portion of historic Chamberlands, one of the oldest resort areas on Lake Tahoe, owned by another Marin resident, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, San Anselmo. Summer vacationists recognize the spot as the terminal for Commodore Airline's daily one hour flights from Sausalito.

Of the original 42 lots offered for sale only a few are left, according to Ziegler, and plans are already being made to open a new section of 40 more lots "as soon as the snow is gone."

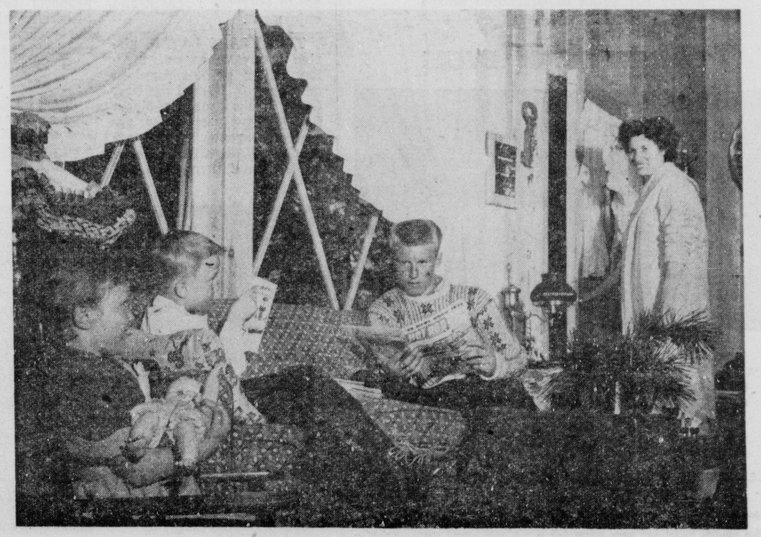
Chamberlands, located at Homewood, 11 miles from Squaw Valley, is about four hours from Marin on Highway 40. All the lots in the subdivision are improved, Ziegler says, and are supplied with year round water and electricity.

The firm's architectural committee offers free advise and supervision. It has many attractive plans available — which it offers to lot buyers at no cost.

Financing, according to Ziegler, is excellent, and builders are often able to cover almost the entire cost of construction.

WHEEEEEE!—San Anselmo residents Raymond Kettenhofen Jr., Sue and Mike play in front of parents' cabin at Chamberlands.

BEDTIME STORY—Kathy Kettenhofen reads bedtime story to Susan and Mike before attractive corner fireplace of year-round cottage at Tahoe.



'NOW MIND RAYMOND'—Mrs. Kettenhofen leaves Susan and Mike in big brother's charge for an evening out. Spaciousness of cottage is typical of those being built at Chamberlands. It has master bedroom and bath, combination kitchen-living room and loft to sleep four.

GREAT BOOKS

The Man Who Wrote This Would Be Under Observation

By DICK MOORE

"The man who wrote this book would be under mental observation if he were alive today, but there's no doubt about it. He was a genius."

The person who said this is a housewife. The setting is a house in Belvedere. There are 18 persons present, men and women with backgrounds and ages as different as though they had been selected at random from a telephone directory. They are talking, not about the weather or their children or the cold war or the best way to fertilize a lawn, but about a book written more than 200 years ago.

Or the setting is a classroom in San Rafael High School where there are 12 persons, including housewives, businessmen, a member of the professions, and one who is retired. They are laughing, not at the jesting of a television comic, but at the timeless and spicy turn of words by playwright William Shakespeare.

NOW THE SETTING is an all-purpose room on the second floor of the Jewish Community Center in San Rafael. Nine men and women are sitting in an informal arrangement approximating a semicircle. Some are seemingly relaxed, another intent on thumbing through a book, and another wondering aloud exactly what Saint Paul had in mind when he wrote his Epistle to the Romans.

This is no class in theology, nor a class in philosophy, nor for that matter a class in anything. This group, as well as the others described above, meets once every two weeks to exchange observations and opinions on a particular selection of literature that may have been written anytime from the 8th century B.C. up to the 20th century. They are known as Great Books discussion groups.

There are six of these units from Belvedere to Novato, participating in a discussion program for adults, an idea that came to fruition in 1947 on the pattern of similar localized programs under trial by various universities. Finally, the theory was given unity and impetus by a single organization, the Great Books Foundation, which was formed with one tenet: that interested but untrained adults can meet with a leader acting as a moderator and discuss the works of great thinkers to everyone's benefit and enjoyment.

TWO YEARS LATER, marine insurance executive Allan Pither of San Anselmo and his wife formed the first Great Books group in Marin County. Five years later, advertising agency account executive William Baker succeeded the Pithers, who had been transferred. The following years were active, with Baker beginning another unit and wtih four more being formed only last autumn.

These Marin County discussion units represent only a fragment of some 2,200 across the nation involving more than 35,000 participants. The Great Books Foundation concentrates on drawing up a list of books representing the products of history's most discerning thinkers. So far the recommended book list consists of 11 years of reading with 16 works during each year.

Great Books Foundation begins a 12-week television series on KPIX, beginning at 3 p.m. Sunday (June 7). Listeners will be given titles of books in advance, so they may keep pace with the discussions, based on the first-year study. On June 18, another series will begin on KQED, following a 12-week schedule at 8:30 p.m. Thursdays.

Let Bill Baker tell us what the leader of an individual group does.

"First of all," he explains, "the leader never answers a question or voices an opinion. His objective is the encouragement of each participant to read the work in question and then to explore it on various levels: what did the author say? what did he mean by what he said? and finally, what is the importance of what he said?"

SOUNDS SIMPLE? Bill

THE STONES

Brown beside an idling flame
Roast potatoes on the stones,
Prepared to share with one another,
As I sit down alone.

Freedom means the struggling stream—
We'd slip all which-way on the stones,
You said, if we escaped together,
And sent me in alone.

Banked is the brook with moss and loam—
We'll sleep one day beneath the stones;
But until the world is water
I must lie alone.

laughs and tells us this isn't always so, particularly for a leader who would prefer, now and then, to express a few of his own ideas as well as to serve as a detached moderator.

Why does an individual attend a Great Books discussion? There are as many reasons as there are participants, but there does appear to be a pattern.

One resident of Novato tells us she wanted to escape from the numbing "small talk" of her subdivision social life. Another person points to "the yearning—the persistent curiosity to explore the meanings of man and his environment."

Still another mentions "the tremendous entertainment value in exchanging my thinking with several other people who have just read the same book."

Another viewpoint: "The idea of Great Books simply sounded interesting. Perhaps it was my interest in religion that made me begin. And once started, I found a field of enjoyment that I never could have imagined."

WHAT DO PEOPLE find when they come to a Great Books discussion? There's no single answer to this, but Bill Baker is quick to point out what the average person doesn't find.

"Don't look for pat answers, or a lecture course. But you can expect to go home more confused than when you came—more stimulated, also."

Baker also has this observation, reached after five years experience in the program. "Great Books definitely is not designed solely for the Ph.D., or even for the college graduate. It is for everyone with an inquiring mind and the belief that the search for knowledge is a desirable goal that also can be enjoyable."

The question that the Great Books Foundation has for you, the reader, is this:

"Would you care to be stimulated and perhaps confused by Tolstoy, Aristotle, Henry James, Confucious, and the Declaration of Independence? Would you like to speak out with your thoughts on the writing of Mark Twain or Plato and listen to other people who may think you are completely wrong?"

Then it's time to contact William Baker of 1618 Grand avenue, San Rafael and open a new door to life, learning, and entertainment.

JUNIOR THEATRE OF MARIN

All-Day Workshop To Treat Practical Aspects Of Drama

"The practical aspect of artistic endeavor" will be thoroughly explored on Monday, when Junior Theatre of Marin conducts an open workshop at Sleepy Hollow Clubhouse for all members and interested friends. Chairman of the day, Mrs. Don Adams, has arranged an extremely informative program. Mrs. Adams is herself well known as an instructor of creative dramatics. She will perform this function for children in the younger age group of Sleepy Hollow's forthcoming summer workshop.

Opening the procedings at 10 a.m. will be Mrs. Charles Mellerup to talk about sets and demonstrate the making of stage properties. Mrs. Mellerup is associated with Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae Unit and has assisted in the capacity during many summer workshop sessions at the Marin Art and Garden Center. She will deal with shows in-the-round as well as those done in the conventional manner.

At 10:35 a.m. David Belrose will discuss dance as related to the summer workshop program and will demonstrate how it may be integrated into a play. Belrose was choreographer for Fairfax Unit's production last summer; and the well pleased group has again obtained his services for this year.

Costuming will be dealt with at 11:15 a.m. by Mrs. William Cuneo. Mrs. Cuneo has designed the costumes for Ballet Aquacade since its inception. She will display her designs for this year's extravaganza and explain their materials, construction and shortcuts in detail.

During the luncheon break, coffee and cake will be served by Junior Theatre of Marin. Unit members are asked to bring their own sandwiches.

The last phase of the workshop will be handled by Marion Hayes Cain at 12:45 p.m. She will demonstrate the proper application of stage make-up, including the use of beards. She will also give information on the problems of selecting plays, casting, etc. Mrs. Cain has had over 20 years experience in dramatics, the last 10 of these in Marin County. Her Magic Circle productions has played to Junior Theatre's winter season audiences and she has directed the majority of Ross-Kentfield summer workshops. A question and answer period will follow.

attendant stood at the curb, futilely pointing at the runway leading to NWP boats while thousands of cars passed by to reach the other ferry.

MARIN COUNTY commuters likewise became exasperated with slow schedules, antiquated equipment and dilapidated station buildings. People got to calling the third-rail electric system the "Toonerville Line," after a comic strip concerning a broken-down trolley car which was featured in a daily newspaper.

After the inauguration of a policy of retrenchment, it appeared certain that the final blow would strike the narrow gauge still in operation. And as expected, the NWP Company petitioned the California Railroad Commission to abandon this section of road.

A number of business people along the line made a feeble effort to keep the line in operation, but this only postponed the inevitable for a few months.

THE WHEEZY old No. 90 (originally No. 15) pulled one freight car and a ramshackle coach over rusty rails for the last scheduled run on March 30, 1930. A few sentimental souls placed wreathes and flowers on the locomotive, and one or two may have made the trip for memory's sake; otherwise this final act received little attention. The narrow gauge railroad had struggled against odds for 55 years to maintain itself, but now the end had been reached Like an old work horse, it had outgrown its usefulness and was relegated to the "bone yard."

Completion of the Golden Gate Bridge; the ferry boats' struggle for existence through the four following years; substitution of rubber-tired conveyances for the third-rail electric trains — all these belong to another story. One cannot help but wonder, after being packed "Like a sardine" in one of today's overcrowded buses, if there has been any improvement over the old way—even with its short-comings!

But things must change—
"It is not now as it used to be!
The voiced loved of yore
And the forms we were wont to see
We see and hear no more."

GARDENERS' CHECK LIST

- The secret to long bloom with most plants is to keep faded blooms picked off. Letting them go to seed saps energy from the plant.
- Remember the axiom in lawn care: Fertilize lightly and frequently — water deeply and infrequently. Ask your nurseryman to recommend a schedule.
- Keep pinching fuchsias to encourage bushy growth. Feed them with liquid fish at least once a month for good results.
- For a quick fill-in of early summer color, try the dwarf bedding dahlias. They are available as inexpensive seedlings in nursery flats.
- Keep after snails and slugs. Bait or pellets should be placed at intervals throughout the garden for control.

OUTLE FOR TURMOIL—A group of Michigan women—garden lovers all—give their time to help teen-age delinquents tend individual garden plots. The combination of creative physical activity and mature companionship has worked wonders with several of the emotionally disturbed youngsters.

YOUNG MAN WITH A HOE

Hey, Kids! Grow Your Own Garden . . . It's Not So Hard

EDNA KING MANDEVILLE

A children's garden is really no different from a garden for grown-ups. It is just as interesting and much more exciting. When in life is there a better time to become familiar with the mysteries of nature, to learn the value of patience, and to feel the thrill of digging in rich, productive soil? To a child, gardening is play with a purpose.

First the garden must be planned. Why is that necessary? Well, supose you put the seeds in as you went along and right in front of some beautiful pansies there grew a row of cosmos that reached to the top of a fence! Or what if all your flowers bloomed in July and there wasn't a bright spot in your garden all during August and September. That would be an unplanned garden.

Furthermore, part of the fun of gardening is thinking about what a beautiful garden you are going to have. Isn't that the way with most of your good times? So you miss a lot, if you do not plan your garden. It is easy and it's fun. Here are some suggestions.

DRAW AN OUTLINE of the part of the yard that has been given to you to make beautiful. (Let us hope it is a sunny spot.) If possible make it about 12 feet wide and 4 feet deep. While the back and sides will be straight lines, the front can be curved so that the garden is a little wider in the center.

Now, let's write in on the plan the names of the flowers we shall plant, just where we want them to grow.

First, there is the background. We want something that will grow tall. If a fence is there, perhaps a variety that climbs would be the thing. There are climbing nasturtiums, heavenly blue morning glory, gourds (they produce such interesting objects), moon vine, cypress vine (the flowers are dainty red and white stars) and Black-Eyed Susan vine.

If a hedge is there or if the fence belongs to a neighbor, we shall choose a variety that grows tall and supports itself. There are such varieties as Sensation cosmos, African marigold, Sungold sunflower and Pink Queen cleome. Cleome is sometimes called Spider Plant. Plant it and see if you can tell why.

LET'S NEXT pick out the border. After we decide on the border, it will be easier to choose the other varieties. Some people prefer no border at all. They just let the flowers that come in front form a border. Many beautiful gardens are that way. Others prefer to have the garden definitely outlined by planting some low growing variety along the edge. Let us list a few suggestions along with the colors:

Ageratum, Blue Cap—blue.

Alyssum, Snow Cloth — white.

Alyssum, Royal Carpet—purple.

Candytuft, White—white.

Candytuft, All Colors—lavender-rose-white-pink.

Nasturtium Dwarf—yellow-orange-red.

NOW WHAT shall we plant in between the background and the border. There is room for two varieties, one on each side in clumps or a row of each all the way across. How about a bed of Cut and Come Again zinnias on one side and strawflowers on the other? The Cut and Come Again strain of zinnias will not take up as much room as giant zinnias.

The strawflowers can be cut when in bloom and hung with heads down until they dry out. Then they can be used for a long time for color in your room. Other possibilities are bachelor's button (if you do not like girls) or calendula, or shirley poppy. They are all easy to grow.

Now that we have the plan made, let's carry it out.

The ground must be spaded thoroughly. The spade must go down into the ground for over a foot so that fresh, fertile soil will be brought to the top. Seedlings need mellow soil to grow on. If the garden is too large for you to spade alone, perhaps your father will help. It will do him good and he will enjoy it more than he thinks he will when it is first suggested to him.

It is the only time that you will need his help. Spading requires mere manual labor and very little skill. So the success of the garden will still be yours, even if you get help at this point.

THE NEXT STEP is to rake the garden thoroughly. This is very important. Go over it several times so that all the lumps of dirt are broken up and the ground is level. Be sure that the dirt has settled as much as possible. You might walk on it and if you sink down in spots, rake those places full.

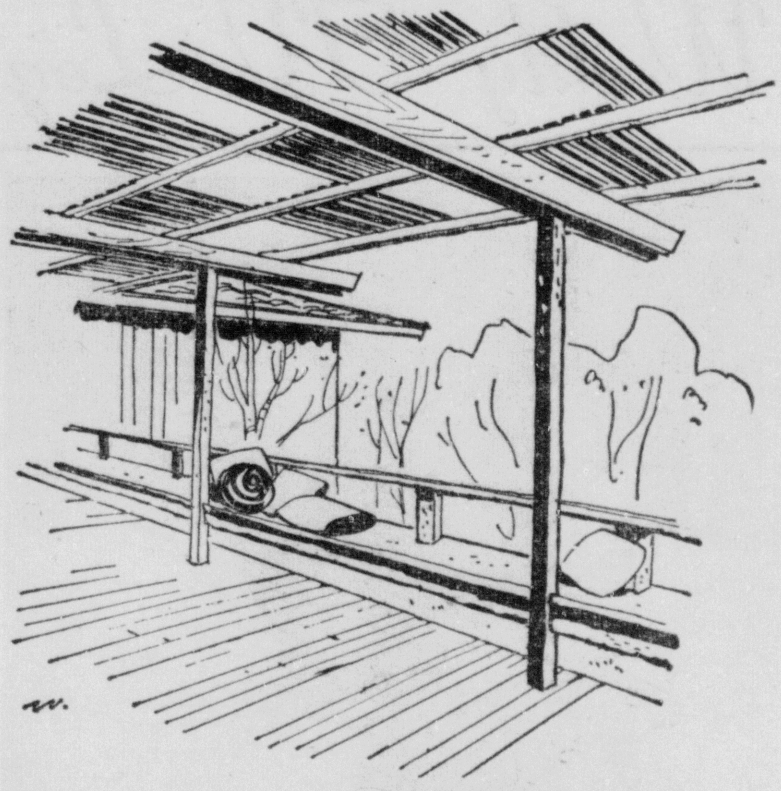
WHERE TO UNWIND—After a tense day at the office, what is more relaxing than an hour in the cool of the deck, where dinner is just a sliding door away. This deck is built of Douglas fir 2x8 planks, spaced a quarter inch apart for rain runoff.



DAPPLED LIGHT—An ingenious checkerboard of open and closed squares throws charming patterns of light on a simple porch or deck. Where sun is a problem (or where light is needed indoors) the patterned sunshade gives light, but cuts amount of heat and glare falling on deck. Some home-owners make their lathe sections slide-able, so that they can dine or sun in appropriate comfort.

SOUND FAMILIAR?

Just A-Settin' And A-Settin' Out On The Porch (Deck)

When the work day is done, what could be more pleasant than kicking off your shoes and going out on the back porch for an hour's relaxation? Or for the whole evening, if you can wrangle it.

Although for a time, builders considered the back porch obsolete and left it out of house plans, it wasn't long before they learned that porch-settin' was an engrained habit in American life. Now, of course, they hasten to include the porch or deck as a necessary element of the modern home.

Design for the porch has changed somewhat since Grandpa's day, but it's probably even more popular now than then, for moderns put it to use every hour of the day—from breakfast coffee to evening star gazing.

Much of the porch's present popularity stems from its accessibility and convenience. Nowadays, the porch is built on the same level as the interior floors, so that it is really just an extension of the indoor living areas, and it usually extends the full width of the house with access from more than one room.

THE MODERN PORCH version or deck is floored with 2x4, 2x6 or 2x8 inch planks of Douglas fir, and the deck boards are spaced a quarter inch apart for water drainage. Because of this construction, cleaning it consists only of an occasional bout with the garden hose, a process which could hardly be termed fatiguing.

Even repainting chores are eliminated with new porch design, for usually, the deck boards are simply allowed to weather naturally, though in some cases, homeowners prefer to start them out in life with a coat of natural wood stain and let them weather from there.

Shapes for the porch or deck vary widely, and hardly a soul sticks to the common rectangle. Porch railings offer an opportunity for interesting designs; the posts can be straight 2x4 or 4x4 inch fir or they can be graded in size from wide at the base to narrow at the top so that the railing appears to slant away from the porch decking. The top rail should be wide and low enough to double as extra seating space.

Furnishing the porch has become quite a game, and anything goes as long as comfort remains the keynote. Manufacturers of outdoor furniture are now providing pieces which offer distinctive design and gay colors, as well as solid comfort.

'PROJECT IMMORTALITY'—Lee J. Cobb, right, portrays a dying genius and Kenneth Haigh plays a young scientist assigned to record his thought processes for "Project Immortality" in the "Playhouse 90" drama of that title at 8:30 p. m. War I Planes Battle in Skies As Television Cameras Grind

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — No place but in wacky Southern California can citizens see World War I Fighter planes engaging in realistic dog fights.

Oldtime Spads, Jennys Fokkers thrash noisily through the air popping blank cartridges at one another with vintage machine guns.

A NEW TV SERIES, "War Birds," scheduled to hit the telewaves next fall, is responsible for the ancient biplanes flapping around in the smog. People on the ground and jet jockies in the air rub their eyes in disbelief (and from smog burn) as a German Fokker noses over, belches smoke and spins to a phony crash.

The man in the "crashing" Fokker is Frank Tallman, a dapper ex-Navy pilot who owns and rents out 16 air jalopies for movies and Telepix. He earns a handsome living at it, but not without risk.

"SOME OF THE PLANES are exactly as they were back in 1917," Tallman said. "They're made of fabric, wood and wire, and they need constant maintenance.

"So far none of the planes has been damaged, although I've suffered a few forced landings and a couple of ground loops."

Tallman gave up a plush CBS-TV executive job to fly his collection of antiques. With World War II mustering out pay he purchased his first five planes for $400. His collection is one of two of the largest in the world.

'South Pacific' Author Writes South Seas Series For TV

NEW YORK (AP)—As Rudyard Kipling celebrated British Empire Indian, James A. Michener has taken the western Pacific for his special province of fiction and fact.

Now the Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist is writing an adventure drama television series called "Adventures in Paradise" which will reach the home audience via ABC-TV beginnig next September.

THE FILMED HOUR-LONG weekly dramas, to be produced by Martin Manulis, concern the adventures of a young American sailing his schooner in the South Seas and along the Asian coast.

"This is a true marriage of Manulis's television experience and my writing experience," Michener said on a visit to New York.

Calm, thoughtful and modest, Michener says that the stories he writes for the series will be adapted by television craftsmen.

'MY CRAFT is to write stories," he said. "The chances of my suddenly becoming an extraordinary television craftsman are very remote. I've had good luck with dramatics, but my work has been adapted by others."

Everyone knows, of course, what happened to the musical "South Pacific," based on his Pulitzer Prize-winning "Tales of the South Pacific." Three other books of his have been movie successes—"Return to Paradise," "The Bridges of Toko-Ri," and "Sayonara."

SO IT'S INTERESTING to hear Michener say, "I have serious doubts that I could make a living solely by writing books. Actually I've never had a really top best-seller."

What he meant was that the big money to a novelist these days comes from movies, the theater, television, foreign rights and reprints.

MICHENER CONTINUES to travel widely in the Pacific. He just came back from Southeast Asia and the South Seas gathering material for "Adventure in Paradise" and may return soon. When working at his home in Bucks County, Pa., he writes from 7:30 in the morning until noon.

He continues to write primarily about the South Pacific and Asia, he says, "because I have a great affection for the area. It has a natural way of life that appeals to me."

MickeyMouse Club To Be Discontinued

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — So it's goodby Mickey Mouse Club, for a time, at least.

Walt Disney has indicated that the TV kid show will not return to the ABC network next fall.

Mouse ears blossomed out on small fry all over the country when the afternoon show began four years ago. The MM club quickly became the daytime show with the highest rating, and even the tougher critics declared it was a step forward in the quality of kid shows.

THEN TV ECONOMICS stepped in. Sponsors began dropping. It was argued that there was a limited market in advertising to the younger crop. This year the show was cut to a half-hour, all reruns.

"I've had complaints from parents who ask me why we don't make new shows," Disney remarked. "Nobody wants to put up the money. I'd like to take them off the air and bring them back in three or four years. There would be a new audience then."

THERE IS ALSO a chance that "Zorro" will not be back for its third season. Sponsors are reported balking at the upper price for the series.

"I'd just as soon quit it," the producer said. "I'd like to use Guy Williams in some features, anyway.

"I think we could get along well with just the one series ('Walt Disney presents') on the air. You see, we were never in TV to make money. We use it to advertise our other activities — theatrical features and the Disneyland Park.

49TH AND 50TH STATES SITES FOR TV SHOWS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 49th and 50th states are going to get their licks on the nation's TV sets starting next fall.

Two major film companies that have leaped into television are planning a couple of telefilm series apiece to feature the new states. Warners is coming up with an adventure, "The Alaskans," and detective yarn, "Hawaiian Eye."

Twentieth-Century-Fox has its own Alaskan series, "The Last Frontier," plus James A. Michener's Adventures in Paradise."

Great Books Class To Begin On KPIX

KPIX (Channel 5) will present 12 programs devoted to a study of Great Books beginning tomorrow from 3:30 to 4 p.m.

The program will transfer to television the highly successful "Great Books" course in which thousands of Americans participate each year.

Plato's "Apology" and "Crito" will be discussed in the premiere program.
